Harrison supports Willow Run

A member of the seven-member Airport Research Committee appointed by the Van Buren Board of Trustees has taken a favorable position on the proposed $100 million expansion of the Willow Run Airport, headquartered in Ypsilanti Township.

The members of the committee were recommended by Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer, who has along with the township board strenuously opposed the airport expansion proposal.

R. Terry Harrison independent and professional real estate appraiser-broker of 473 Rawsonville Rd., Belleville, has issued his objections to the position taken by the township board and other members of the airport committee.

Harrison resides 300 feet from the end of the runway, located at the northwest corner of the airport. He is an ex-Naval aviator and holds a commercial pilot's license. He has lived in the vicinity of the Willow Run Airport for the last 13 years.

In the first part of two part statement, Harrison said:

"For the past couple of months I have refrained from taking umbrage at the various pronouncements by the Van Buren township supervisor and the board of trustees based on so-called "conclusions" of the township Airport Committee, of which I am a member.

However, when the supervisor starts seriously leading down the "primrose path" the citizens of this community, I feel it is time to step in and set the record straight.

I do not believe G. Elton Gollwitzer, supervisor, has the right (at least the moral right) to spend tax money to hire an attorney to try "any dirty tricks" in the book in opposition to the proposed expansion of the airport at this time.

I do not believe he should waste the time, money and effort to fabricate a special "airport" zoning classification in an attempt to do the same thing.

Though I believe him to be an honest, hardworking public servant, if he is not guilty of playing politics with this issue, he is guilty of poor judgment and the recipient of bad information.

As to the political angle — Joseph Hogan (township trustee) has been quoted in an area newspaper as believing Gollwitzer's stance is "politically motivated." Evidently he wants to rid himself and the township government of the present law firm of Berry, Hopson, Francis & Mack so badly that he is using this method as the means.

himself and the township government of the present law firm of Berry, Hopson, Francis &Mack so badly that he is using this method as the means.

It does seem a shame that the number one man in the township government can't exercise better control over his executive board — as well as other administrative personnel. It is all symptomatic of the archaic, provincial type of government faced by men who fight for progress.

Gollwitzer's positive and costly actions are decidedly premature inasmuch as the necessary feasibility report has not even yet been ordered and also because he has little or no basis for his stand. Other than the vocal minority and a two-man minority report by the airport committee, he has no reflection of the true feelings of the "Silent Majority."

The latter, at least at this time, makes me feel a little like a "voice in the wilderness," but I feel "they" probably expect the banner to be taken up by the likes of the U.S. government, General Motors, Ford, Chrysler, the University of Michigan and the airlines. This may be all well and good, but in the meantime they had better make their feelings known

Stewart against gun control law

By HENRY CANTIN

A referendum drive gainst Romulus' newly adopted firearms Ordinance is being planned by Councilman James C. Stewart, who voted against passage of the new law.

The city council approved the oridinance, the first firearms code for the city, at a special council session Jan. 27.

The roll call vote of the council was 5-1 with one member of the council, Edmund W. Bizek, absent.

Stewart, who has 45 days after the effective date of the ordinance to officially initiate referendum petitions, stated Monday he is having the legal groundwork prepared prior to the actual start of the campaign.

The law is effective 30 days after publication. Elsewhere in this issue are terms of the ordinance.

The councilman was critical of earlier reports he had approved of the firearms law, which prohibits the discharge of certain firearms within the City of Romulus.

The new ordinance followed months of controversy concerning the discharge of firearms within the city.

A public hearing on banning hunting in the city was conducted by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) at Romulus Senior High School on Jan. 11. More than 250 persons attended the hearing.

The DNR was requested by the city council to hold the hearing and report back its

Jet chased man arrested

By KEVIN FOLEY
Daily Eagle Staff Writer

A Detroit man is being held on felonious assault charges after he attempted to run h. car into a United Airlines 747 jet at Metropolitan Airport in Romulus yesterday afternoon.

Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas said the suspect, identified as Curtis Lee Letta, 31, drove his 1972 Cadillac onto the taxi ramp at 12:40 p.m., and began chasing the huge Chicago-bound jet as it was about to take off.

A sheriff's patrol car and an airport fire truck intercepted the vehicle and halted it before it reached the plane, Lucas said, but as a deputy approached the car, Latta allegedly attempted to run the officer down.

The patrol car and the fire truck chased Latta's car onto William G. Rogell Drive, and the fire truck bounced the car off the road and again halted it, Lucas said. Patrolman James Baughman approached the car a second time and Lucas said Latta again tried to run him down. The sheriff said the officer was saved when the fire truck rammed the car broadside and knocked it away from the officer.

Latta was still able to drive the car away, however, and by that time, a general alert had been issued to all sheriff's cars in the area.

A road patrol car spotted the vehicle at Merriman and Van Born roads, and chased it east on Van Born to Middlebelt, where Latta made a U turn and headed west on Van Born with the scout car in pursuit.

As three scout cars chased Latta, he ran a red light at Van Born and Merriman and knocked a small truck off the road.

Several sheriff's cars surrounded the vehicle a short distance from the intersection and ordered Latta and his two passengers to get out of the car. A man and a woman left the car, Sheriff Lucas said, but Latta drove off again. Deputies then shot out all four tires on the car, but Latta still kept going.

Lucas said Latta finally lost control of his car in a field one-quarter of a mile east of Venoy Road in Wayne, and jumped from the car and fled on foot. Several officers chased Latta, tackled him, and after what the sheriff said was a violent struggle, subdued him.

Latta, who the sheriff said appeared to be "high on some sort of drug," is now held on felonious assault charges stemming from his attempt to run down Ptlm. Baughman.

The officer was taken to Wayne County General Hospital where he was treated and released for minor injuries.

Liquor license OK'd

By HENRY CANTIN

The Romulus City Council has approved the issuance of a Class C liquor license to Alexander Dul of 23221 Bonair, Dearborn Heights.

Dul is the owner and operator of the Shady Hollow Golf Club, located at 34777 Smith Rd., Romulus, where the liquor license will be used.

The roll call vote to approve the liquor license for Dul was 4-1 with Councilman Ellis T. Pennington voting against it. Council President Jimmie Raspberry abstained from voting.

Voting in favor of granting the last of the Class C licenses were Councilmen William M. Oakley, who initiated the motion to approve the license, Fred Junior Block, James C. Stewart and Edmund W. Bizek.

Prior to council's approval, which will be forwarded to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, Councilman Bizek, who originally made the motion to grant Dul one of the Class C licenses weeks ago, asked Dul if he would accept a report license for the gold club instead of the Class C license if one is available to him.

Bizek stated that since the golf club is not open year round, a resort license would be appropriate if something could be worked out and if such license would not affect the quota of Class C licenses, so that license still could be given to someone else.

He added the council should get a legal opinion on this point.

Ned Bunn, city attorney, told Bizek and the council that Dul may have to get a transfer of a resort license if he so desired, but to get a new resort license might take away from the Class C license quota allotted the city at the present time.

Dul stated he would accept a resort license if one is available to him and give up the Class C license. The resort license would specify the months of operation allowed.

Councilman James C. Stewart disclosed that Class C licenses must keep their doors all year long as provided under MLCC rules. He stated the township board had approved a resort license for Dul four years ago, but the state hasn't seen fit to give it to him.

Phone number changed

The Helping Hand Thrift Shop, located at 7330 Washington St., Romulus, reported Monday its telephone number has been changed to 326-1140, a local call.

This number can be used to make appointments for the free pap smear clinic now under way under the sponsorship of the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

Calls on this number can be made to 4 p.m. daily for Helping Hand Thrift Shop activities and during the current week for pap test appointments. After 4 p.m., calls will be received by 941-6064 and 941-3617.

For those who need transportation to the clinic, they can call 728-7704, announced Mrs. Florence Klein, director of the shop.

Romulus girls gain finals of pageant

Three Romulus Senior High School girl students have entered the state finals of the National Teen-Age Pageant, according to officials of the pageant.

The Michigan Teen-Age pageant will be held on April 22 at the Detroit-Hilton Hotel.

The young girls are Miss Denise W. Shreve, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard L. Shreve Sr. of 6063 S. Wayne Rd.; Miss Deborah Wahrman, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wahrman of 15660 Wahrman Rd., And Miss Rob Anne Mateja, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mateja of 9016 Grover St.

The contestants will be judged for their scholastic achievements, civic contributions, poise, personality and appearance.

State finals for the pageants are held in 46 of the 50 states. Winners in each state will compete in the National Finals in Atlanta, Ga., on Aug. 23-26.

Denise is a Honor Roll student, member of the high school band and head pom pom girl. She hopes to be a model and interior decorator.

Deborah has been on the high school's honor roll. She is a member of the Booster Club and assists in community affairs. She plans to work for an airline and also to become an elementary teacher.

Rob Anne is a member of the French Club, Debate Club, Science Club, the high school's marching band and concert band. She is also a member of the class council and had received a scholastic achievement and outstanding debater awards. She hopes to become a doctor.

Mayor will investigate dog shooting charges

The reported shooting of a miniature poodle by the Romulus dog warden is under investigation by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael.

The mayor undertook the investigation at the request of the city council and was instructed to report his findngs back to council.

The investigation is based on a complaint made before city council on Jan. 25 by Ernestine Pitts of 11298 Moore St., Romulus. The complaint later was submitted in writing to conform with the council's new policy regarding complaints against city employes or officials.

In her complaint Mrs. Pitts stated the dog shooting occurred at 3:13 p.m. on Jan. 17. She said:

"I feel the dog warden did willfully shoot our miniature poodle without due cause. Because an animal will not come to you is no reason to kill. If our poodle had been vicious then he would have no other choice but to kill.

"If the dog warden and his helper could not catch the animal, they should have followed him to his home. This would have been the best procedure.

"I also think the dog warden was wrong in shooting in a residential area. I am wondering if this person is aware that his shots could have injured some innocent persons or caused some damage to a home or car."

George Hartgrove, Romulus pound master, was ill and not present at the council session.

Mayor Carmichael reported he was told the dog was running at large, was not licensed, that no owner could be found and the dog was tearing up cans and littering the area and had been in the area for some time. The mayor stated that perhaps some guidance should be set by the council in cases where dogs are hard to catch.

Council President Jimmie Raspberry disclosed his wife had received a call about the matter. He added that since he lacked complete details from all parties involved he would request Mrs. Pitts to put her complaint in writing and asked the mayor to make a complete investigation.

Councilman Brooker R. Edwards reported a member of his family saw the shooting. He reported he was told the dog warden picked up one dog with a rope and shot the other dog.

Edwards cited an incident involving the family dog. He disclosed that during a recent check on dogs owned by members of the city council, the dog warden told his (Edwards) mother that if the family dog got loose again he (the dog warden) would shoot him.

Edwards reported the family dog broke loose from his chain but had been returned to the back yard by a member of the family.

Edwards aid, "If the dog warden kills my dog, I'll kill him."

Fund drive initiated to aid Help Center

Members of the Romulus Drug Use and Abuse Council Inc., PTA groups and Romulus Help Center volunteers have been buttonholing Romulus community leaders and organization members to enlist their financial support for the newly opened Help Center, located at 35085 Goddard Road.

Non-profit and manned entirely by volunteers, the center has no income other than that contributed by interested groups and citizens who recognize the community's need for the facility.

Contributing membership cards are being offered at $5 for a year. Funds will be used to provide additional training for the crisis center volunteers and to meet operational costs of the center.

A mailing list of sponsors will be compiled for distribution of a quarterly newsletter to be written by staff volunteers to inform members about the center's progress.

"We've all worked very hard," said Earl Lamb, chairman for the project, "and we've had some wonderful cooperation from all areas of the city. But we have our obligations to meet."

According to Lamb, volunteers have been faithful and the number of people dropping in the center is increasing.

"We have nearly 200 people, young and old, who come in at some time during each week. The number is increasing and it tells us that the center is a badly needed facility."

"They read, play cards or chess, sometimes there's a class going on in first aid. The ping-pong table is popular and there's always a conversation going on in the lounge," said Lamb.

Responsibility for the center is assumed by the volunteer on duty. He is in charge of the log book and enforces the regulations of the center. He also is in charge of the telephones.

Two telephone lines are open to the center, one a crisis phone, 941-7970, is for emergency calls only. The other, 941-7980, is for non-emergency situations, referrals, information and other business. Personal calls are limited to five minutes.

A community open house is scheduled for February 19-20 between 1 and 4 p.m., when volunteers will conduct guests through the center and explain its operation.

Grease Paint... ...and Spotlights

"I'm thinking how beautiful the world is. And how it keeps being beautiful — no matter what happens to us. It was never made for anything but beauty, Eben, whether we lived now or long ago. The spring comes year after year, for us or for Egypt. The sun goes down in the same green, lovely sky; the birds sing — for us or yesterday — or for tomorrow."

"Jennie, who are you? What brought you here to me?"

These excerpts are from Robert Nathan's "Portrait of Jennie," to be presented April 14 and 15 by the Belleville Community Players at the High School Auditorium. Admission will be $1.50.

Who is Jennie? Where does she come from?

Jennie is a 15-year-old girl, a 28-year-old woman, from the 1800's, from the 1970's, from tomorrow. She is all of these. Jennie leads Eben (a young artist) to success in a time of depression, breadlines and death.

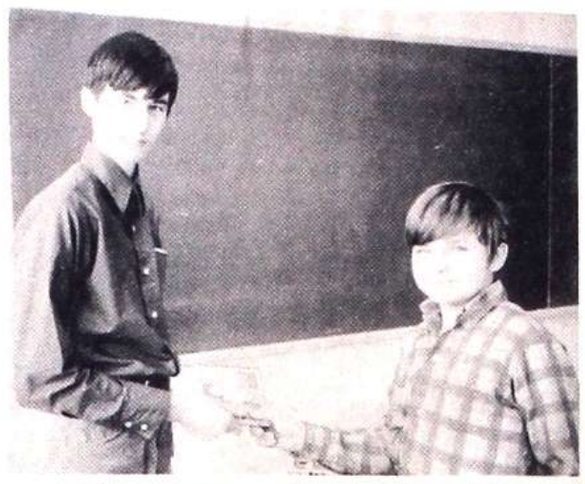

She's an innocent female, lost in herself and in time.

"Portrait of Jenny" is a beautiful story of a young artist finding love and success from the same source, having only to give up one to retain the other.

The Belleville Community Players, consisting of high school students and adults, have determined the cast of 10. The adults are as follows: Eben Adams, the painter, is Dave Salisbury; Mrs. Spinny, an art dealer, is Dorothy Florian; Arne, a Scandinavian artist and friend of Eben, Gerry Machi; Britta, Arne's sister, is Sue Young; Mr. Matthews, an art dealer, is Bill Matthews; Emily, a friend of Jenny, is Sharon Matthews; Gus, a cab driver, is Dick Porter; Anna, a friend of Eben, is Diane Porter; Mrs. Jekes, Anna's mother and owner of Eben's apartment, is Charlotte King, and Brenda Gollitzer, a high school junior, plays the part of Jenny.

Due to the long rehearsal period, more time may be spent on play analysis and general character study. The director, Judie Adams, and the above cast of 10 are currently working on these two important steps by group readings and improvisations.

Chess enthusiasts enjoy competition

It may be cold and gloomy outdoors, but in Room 27 at South Junior High School, Belleville, one can feel the warm glow of friendly competition as each boy in the Chess Club surges on for a victory over his opponent.

With 32 boys in one room, one would expect a great amount of noise. This is not so here, however, for the power of concentration runs high. Poor sportsmanship and the lack of seriousness are totally unaccepted by this group of boys.

On Jan. 31 there was a play-off between two boys who each claimed only one loss in the previous six-week tournament.

Larry Clayton of the ninth grade was awarded first prize by his opponent and runner-up, Tim White.

The young man with the greatest amount of losses was awarded a book, "Chess The Easy Way."

This is one of the areas covered by the noon hour activities. The group is sponsored by Mrs. Georgina Fries.

Diamond anniversary brings PTA challenge

One of the most significant anniversaries in the history of volunteerism occurs in 1972 - the PTA celebrates its 75th year of working totally in the interest of children and youth

Founders Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, who recognized the great need for such a volunteer movement, organized the first meeting of the PTA on February 17, 1897 in Washington, D.C.

They expected some 200 persons at that meeting. One can imagine their elation when more than 2,000 attended.

The concept of PTA swept the nation and now 75 years later, the organization has grown to one of almost 10 million members. Since that time, scarcely a year has passed that the PTA has not implemented a project or involved its members in an activity that benefited children.

Fourteen years before the creation of the U.S. Public Health Servce, the PTA was lobbying in Washington for a National Health Bureau. The first Pure Food Bill became law with the PTA's support.

The organization has consistently worked to raise minimum wages for teachers ... campaigned for strict supervison of motion pictures ... supported hot lunch programs ... urged continuous health supervision ... worked to insure quality living and quality education for all children and youth.

During PTA's diamond jubilee year, Mrs. Elizabeth Malory, president of the National PTA, challenges all members to accelerate their efforts to implement the priority areas of the PTA's Action Program.

—To provide for children and youth the kind of family life, education, and experiences that will keep them from turning to mood-and-mind-altering drugs to fill the emptiness of their lives or to escape from tensions and pressures;

—To secure for every family dignity and freedom from hunger and discrimination in housing, employment and education;

—To prevent plunder and pollution of the physical environment so that our fragile planet remains livable;

—To nuture goodwill, respect, caring and shared problem-solving among the diverse groups in our nation so that we can act together to meet the needs and protect the human rights of all;

—To involve youth meaningfully in our efforts to improve the quality of living and learning for all Americans.

"These are burdensome tasks. But we can have no peace of mind unless we take up the burden," says Ms. Mallory. "These are arduous tasks. But we have audacious faith that enough of us have courage and strength to undertake them and to recommit ourselves to the goals of PTA in our 75th year."

Survey planned on unemployment

A number of households in this area will be interviewed during the week of Feb. 14 for a survey of employment and unemployment conducted by the Bureau of the Census, announced Robert G. McWilliam, director of the bureau's Data Collection Center in Detroit.

This is a monthly survey conducted nationwide by the bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor. A sample of households is scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all households in the United States.

The employment and unemployment statistics which are based on results of this survey are prime indicators of the economic health of the nation. The December survey showed that 80.2 million persons were employed and 4.7 million unemployed. After allowance for usual seasonal patterns, both were virtually unchanged over November.

Information supplied by households participating in the survey is confidential by law and is used only to compile statistical totals.

Ping pong table donated

A ping-pong table and accessories were purchased by the Cory Elementary School PTA and donated to the Romulus Help Center, announced Mrs. Gloria Chandler, president.

"We are also sponsoring a used furniture drive," she added.

The Help Center, located on Goddard Road in Romulus, has had the support of PTA groups as a worthwhile community facility for combating drug abuses.

Activities at the center include a job placement service, recreational activities and a crisis referral directory. Two phones are answered by trained volunteers.

PTA groups have assisted the center by providing meals for the empathy training groups and by cooperating in fund raising projects.

Music scholarships to be given by PTA

Two summer music scholarships for Blue Lake Music Camp will be awarded to junior high school musicians who have graduated from Hayti Elementary School, announced Mrs. Donna Lee Zavitz, PTA president.

The PTA group has set aside funds for two weeks of music training for youngsters who will be selected by Richard Kruse, band director at the junior high school. The winners will be chosen on proficiency and interest basis.

In other business, May 1 was selected to be the date for the annual fair. Mrs. Carole Filkins will be chairman for the event, which will have its theme, "Snoopy in Story Book Land."

Scouts hold paper drive

Boy Scout Troop 793, sponsored by St. Anthony's Parish of Belleville, is holding a paper drive on Saturday, Feb. 12.

Anyone wishing to have their old newspapers picked up may call Scoutmaster Anthony Talaga at 697-4643 or Robert Lentz at 697-0760.

Belleville IM basketball program expands this year

The Belleville Senior High School's intramural basketball program is now under way under the volunteered supervision of faculty members Ken Head, Keith Emerson and Tom Fielder.

Now in its second year, the program has grown from six teams last year to eight teams this year.

Approximately 100 students are participating in the activity, with at least 10 members and a maximum of 15 per team.

Every Friday beginning at 3 p.m. four 20-minute games are played in one of the high school gyms. Each team plays a seven-game schedule and following the regular play will be playoffs involving the top four finishing teams. After the playoffs, an all-star game will be played.

The purpose of this program is to provide athletic competition for those students not currently involved in any varsity sports.

In order to remain on a team, participants must also be passing one-half of their classes and be in good standing with the teachers and administrators.

Population rise

LONDON — The population of England and Wales reached 48,815,000 in 1971—an increase of 2.6 million in 10 years, according to a government estimate.

Snowmobile races planned for weekend

The fourth annual snowmobile races, sponsored by the Huron Valley Conservation Association, will be held this weekend (Feb. 12 and 13). The races will be held at the east end of Ford Lake.

Registration time for the races will be at 10 a.m. on both racing days. Races will start at 12:30 p.m. each day.

One of the highlights of the two-day racing event will be the Supervisors and Mayors Race to be held at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Jack Begin, race chairman, announced that hot refreshments will be available under the bigtop. Admission to the races is free.

NOTICE
TO
SUMPTER TOWNSHIP RESIDENTS

Due to the limited facilities of the township and to prevent the spreading of canine diseases, Sumpter Township will not have a dog vaccination clinic this year.

We urge you to get your dog vaccinated at your veterinarian and then obtain the necessary license at the Sumpter Township Hall.

Dog licenses will be extended to March 1, 1972; license fees: $1.50 males and unsexed dogs, $2.50 for females.

Dogs not licensed on or before March 1, 1972, will cost double, in accordance with the Sumpter Township Dog Ordinance.

Airport expansion plan is supported just to save their tax monies.

I accepted the appointment to this study committee in the belief it was to be constituted for the purpose of honest endeavor, to gather and analyze factual information relative to the pros and cons of the airport expansion. Sadly, I have just about reached the conclusion that it has turned into a "rubber stamp" for the supervisor and his fellow Republicans for political gain.

Our first meeting was in July of last year and I, as well as others on the committee, was led to believe it would be long-lived. To this point we have had exactly six meetings (one a month) and on Nov. 5 meeting all of a sudden — were given the inference strongly, that we had better hurry and get the job done.

Primarily, this was intended for me, as this time we had dwindled from seven to five members and I was the only proponent of the airport improvement, so the burden of proving this point fell entirely on my shoulders.

Therefore, I strongly object to the supervisor's shifting the responsibility for his own personal viewpoint to the committee by prefacing his remarks (as reported in one local newspaper on 2-2-72) with, "After months of study by the airport committee ...". This is an extreme exaggeration, to say the least — as in the one and one-fourth page, two-man minority (airport committee) report.

This report, on which so much diatribe has been based, is inaccurate, misleading, opinionated and now irrelevant since the recent realignment of the proposed new runways.

Even Gollwitzer, in his personal report, stated Van Buren Township would lose only approximately 10 million in "assessed valuation" rather than the $15 million loss contained in the afore-mentioned report.

(Part 2 will be printed next week.)

Liquor license okayed by council

"My opinion is that a resort license would eat up a Class C license," Stewart said.

Councilman Raspberry asked the council to hold the request of Dul and others in abeyance. He reported he had written to the MLCC to get a representative to come to Romulus and explained the commission rules on issuing licenses and what effect one license has on another.

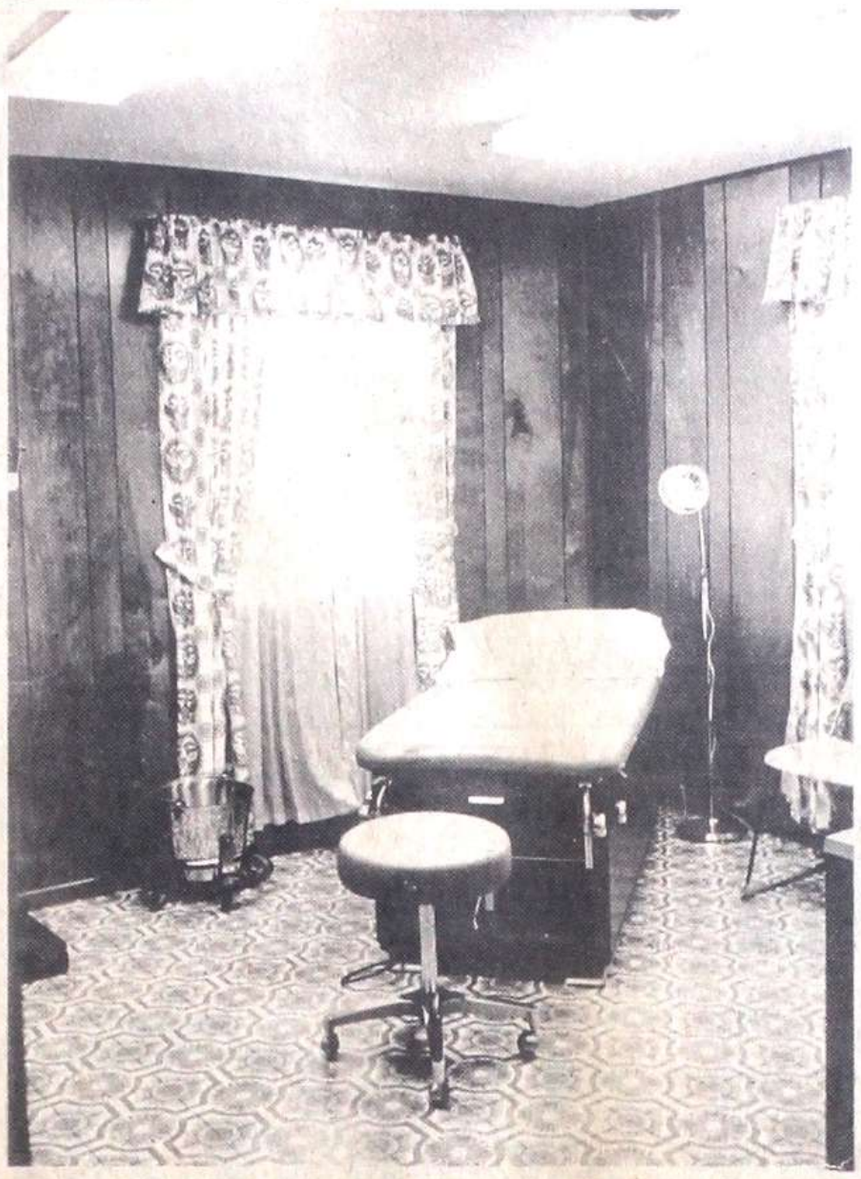

The MLCC had originally allotted the city six new Class C licenses but the number was later reduced to five after the MLCC considered the issuance of a liquor license to Joseph J. Lambert, owner of the Landing Strip Lounge, Romulus as one against the quota of new licenses.

Lambert received his license prior to the 1970 U.S. Census, which showed a population increase in Romulus and the subsequent issuance of six additional Class C licenses to the city.

The city council wants a detailed reasoning for this as well as the effect the issuance of a resort tavern license for 10 months to Ramada Inn, 8270 Wickham Rd., Romulus, has on the new Class C license quota.

The Ramada Inn's resort tavern license was later approved by the MLCC to a resort Class B Hotel license for 12 months.

Two other applicants who appeared before the council Feb. 1 for liquor licenses has their requests taken under advisement by the council. They were Michael L. Sutko of 31831 Ecorse Rd., Romulus, and Samuel Hood of 11209 Whitehorn St., Romulus.

recommendations. City officials are awaiting its report.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael who favors a hunting ban, reported the firearms ordinance help solve the shooting problem.

In an earlier report on the firearms code adopted by the city council, it was reported in the official minutes of the special hearing the council's vote was unanimous.

Stewart Monday issued reasons behind his opposition to the firearms ordinance.

Stewart prefaced his comments by criticizing published information stating he voted for the new firearms code. He said:

"False information was given to the newspaper about the vote on the gun control ordinance by the city clerk. Why was this done-deliberately?

"The clerk and his secretary both took minutes of the meeting on tape and in short hand. The debate lasted two hours and 28 minutes. How could the clerk say it was an unanimous decision when I voted "no" and Councilman Edmund Bizek was absent. The clerk's secretary even typed the minutes to read that it was an unanimous decision. Why?" Stewart asked.

In citing his reasons behind his "no" vote, Stewart said:

"The gun control ordinance is not a substitute for a hunting ban that was earlier discussed. Why did the council not wait for the results of the DNR meeting held at the high school? Was it because a citizen said he had 600 signatures on petitions to stop hunting and some councilmen jumped on the band wagon using this as a way of trying to get votes in the next election?

"To stop hunting is one thing, but to try to control guns is a different matter that needs more consideration. All the sportsmen of Romulus are hurt by the new ordinance. Farmers cannot protect their livestock, chickens, etc., without getting a permit from the clerk's office on orders of the Wayne County Sheriff.

"By the time a farmer sees his stock in danger he must call the sheriff to investigate his farm to see if it is suitable to discharge a gun on. If the approval is given, he must then drive to the clerk's office to get his permit and then drive back to his farm, get his gun and shoot whatever is endangering his stock (if the varmint is still there) and his stock not already dead."

Stewart stated this type of gun control is "like buying a new car and being told by the city council and the mayor (who is in favor of this ordinance) that you must park it in your garage and not drive it except to church on Sunday if you get a permit from the clerk."

"I am not opposed to a partial hunting ban in the city where the population is greater than areas that are still suitable for hunting. This decision would have to be made by the state upon recommendation of the city council," Stewart added.

"I am totally opposed to any type of gun control bills that are in violation of my rights under the state and federal constitutions," Stewart said.

Stewart requested interested persons to call him at 721-6625 or at 7164 Harrison St., Romulus.

Romulus drug council will be reorganized

The Board of Directors for the Romulus Drug Use and Abuse Council Inc., will be reorganized to include only active members.

At a board meeting held Monday, Jan. 31, at the Romulus Help Center, 35085 Goddard Rd., it was decided that all current members would be contacted and asked to reaffirm their willingness and interest in taking an active role in planning for the council and help center.

After reorganization, an election of officers and adoption of by laws will take place said Earl Lamb, acting chairman.

The board heard reports concerning a contributing membership drive being conducted by center volunteers, PTAs and board members. Funds are needed for operational expenses and training for volunteers.

A community open house was announced for Feb. 19-20 between 1 and 4 p.m.

Approval was given from a $50 membership fee to the Western Wayne County Drug Alliance. Plans also were made for a 10-week seminar on alcoholism to be conducted by Frank MacDonell, chief alchoholism therapist for Annapolis Hospital.

Other activities will include art classes, additional empathy workshops and another First aid training class.

The next regular meeting of the board of directors will be on Monday, Feb. 14 at 8 p.m.

The names of the two persons with Latta were not immediately released pending further investigation.

A source close to the Wayne County Sheriff's said Latta had been arrested and charged with first-degree murder in 1957 in connection with a Detroit homicide.

He was convicted on that charge and an added charge of assault with intent to commit armed robbery and sentenced to serve a concurrent life and 7½ to 15-year sentence on Feb. 5, 1958.

Latta won a new trial in April of 1969, and the charge against him was reduced to second-degree murder. He was paroled on June 3, 1969, and has been living in Detroit since then.

He was scheduled to be arraigned on the felonious assult charge in 34th District Court in Romulus today.

Commission sets meetings

The Community Relations Commission of Romulus has announced that its monthly meetings are held at 7 p.m. on the fourth Monday of each month.

The meetings, which are opened to the public are conducted in the Community Room, located on the lower level of Romulus Municipal Building, 11111 S. Wayne Rd.

The citizens of Romulus are urged to attend and participate in the commission meetings by Mrs. Susanne Cooke, commission chairman, who reports that the commission is interested in their projects, problems and needs.

Cory PTA celebrates

The Cory Elementary School PTA will celebrate its 48th year of existence with a Founder's Day Banquet at 6:30 p.m. on Feb. 14 at the Romulus Senior High School.

An after-dinner program will feature syndicated writer and author Elinor R. Rose. Her light verse features are published in the Detroit News, Reader's Digest, Good Housekeeping, McCall's, Wall Street Journal and many other national publications.

She is a member of the board of trustees and board of women commissioners at Hillsdale College.

Additional information and reservations are available by calling Mrs. Mary Ann Treder at 941-0644.

Q. I was discharged from the Armed Forces several years ago. Will the Veterans Administration reimburse my family for "Burial Expenses" if something were to happen to me in the future?

A. Yes, Veterans Administration pays an amount, not to exceed $250.00, towards the "Burial Expenses" of a veteran. In addition, and this is seldom brought to the family's attention, the administration should supply a U.S. flag for burial and the choice of either a Granite or a Bronze marker for the grave at the cemetery.

In our opinion

People care too little about mounting taxes

A funny thing happened to us on the way to Toledo the other night!

We ran into — not with the car, fortunately — one more example of how the public, as a whole, just doesn't give a damn about familiarizing itself with the operation of its government at all levels.

Oh, people sputter to themselves about some things or they might think "Isn't that terrible?" or even agree that there probably is a better way of doing something, but — and it's a big but — they usually forget all about the situation a couple seconds after hearing about it.

Hence, the situation is rarely rectified. But, back to the trip to Toledo.

Accompanying a friend to the Ohio city — with the topic of Wednesday's editorial, the proposed extension of last year's 50 per cent increase in the state personal income tax, still on our mind — we began talking about the situation.

The friend, who is an educated man with a responsible and better than average paying position with a large national firm in Ann Arbor, wasn't aware of the fact that his state income tax was increased last summer from 2.6 to 3.9 per cent, let alone the fact that elimination of an Aug. 1, 1972 expiration date on the increase was proposed in the Michigan Legislature last Monday night.

In fact, he insisted that he was paying only 2.6 per cent state income tax, which we know he isn't. Perhaps he wasn't aware of the higher figure because he probably hasn't computed last year's tax statements yet and 2.6 per cent was the figure used on his 1970 returns.

He then concluded there wasn't anything he could do any way. To a point, we almost have to agree since too frequently whatever Lola and the legislature wants Lola and the legislature gets.

But there is something the people can do, if they truly care about the expenditure of their tax money, and that is write your lawmakers. Let them know — politely, but firmly —that some responsibility has to be shown in Lansing and Washington about the spending of your tax dollars, that the people (you) would like to see some other procedures followed other than just financing legislators' various whims, some of which benefit them personally.

Tell the legislators that the people (you) believe in giving them a fair day's pay for a fair day's work. After all, the people (you) can't give themselves (yourself) a pay raise whenever they (you) wish and still dilly dally on some extremely serious problems.

Our schools are in financial trouble, our cities — look at Detroit — aren't much better off, crime has such strong inroads that our safety is in jeopardy both on the streets and in our homes, senior citizens can't afford to keep the homes they worked for all their lives, etc. The list can go on forever.

Have you ever tried to figure out how much of each dollar earned goes into paying taxes of one form or another? We mentioned Wednesday that you should look at the W-2 form your employer furnished last month.

However, that only shows the obvious taxes deducted from your pay. Don't forget the sales taxes, excise taxes, property taxes, the proposed value added tax, inheritance taxes, business taxes, etc.

It may be trite, but history books tell us the Revolutionary War was fought over just one tax. While we don't want war, tax reform and fiscal responsibility sure would be nice.

Letters policy change starts

Starting today, we're initiating a couple of adjustments in the "Our readers write" column that appears on the other side of this page.

While still holding to the policy that all letters must be signed, although we will withhold persons' names upon request, we're adding two stipulations.

First, all letters — in addition to a signature — should include the author's name either typed or printed legibly, along with an address and telephone number which will allow us to contact the letter writer if necessary. The phone number will not be published.

Recently, we've received some letters with signatures only in which it's been next to impossible to interpret the handwriting for the correct spelling of the authors' names.

Secondly, any person requesting a group designation within the signature must indicate to us the size of that group and furnish a list of member names, addresses and telephone numbers for us to keep on file. That list, if so desired, also will be kept confidential.

This is a means of preventing one or two persons from trying to represent themselves as a much larger group of people.

Teacher's friend--the 'magic wand'

By MRS. ALETHA COLLYER Eighth Grade Math Teacher Van Buren Public Schools

Since there is no "magic wand" which will supply all the answers or solve the many problems of the classroom teacher, it becomes most necessary that one in this profession soon recognizes every opportunity to help a child to learn.

Constantly these opportunities confront us as we meet with each new class. Old problems appear in new settings where they again throw some family into temporary upheaval - illness, family problems, financial cares or such.

One needs only a few weeks with a child, even within a group, to recognize when something is wrong. More vocal ones may whisper their news in your ear, if someone else isn't there first. Others struggle bravely alone, trying not to let on.

The inability to cope with hunger, worry or fatigue, the absence of self discipline and the inability or refusal to accept one's self never flaunts themselves in the same way. This hunger is not the hunger of starvation, but the hunger of malnutrition and the hunger of a missing parent.

The class down, the wriggler and drummer, the demander, and the one who at this moment honestly couldn't care less - these are in every class.

Their problems are not solved in a day, perhaps not even a year. But teacher don't give up and with the help of some pretty wonderful classmates who tolerate and help the "goofoff," he learns to take turns, to share, to take part, and at least try to do his work.

It is not magic.

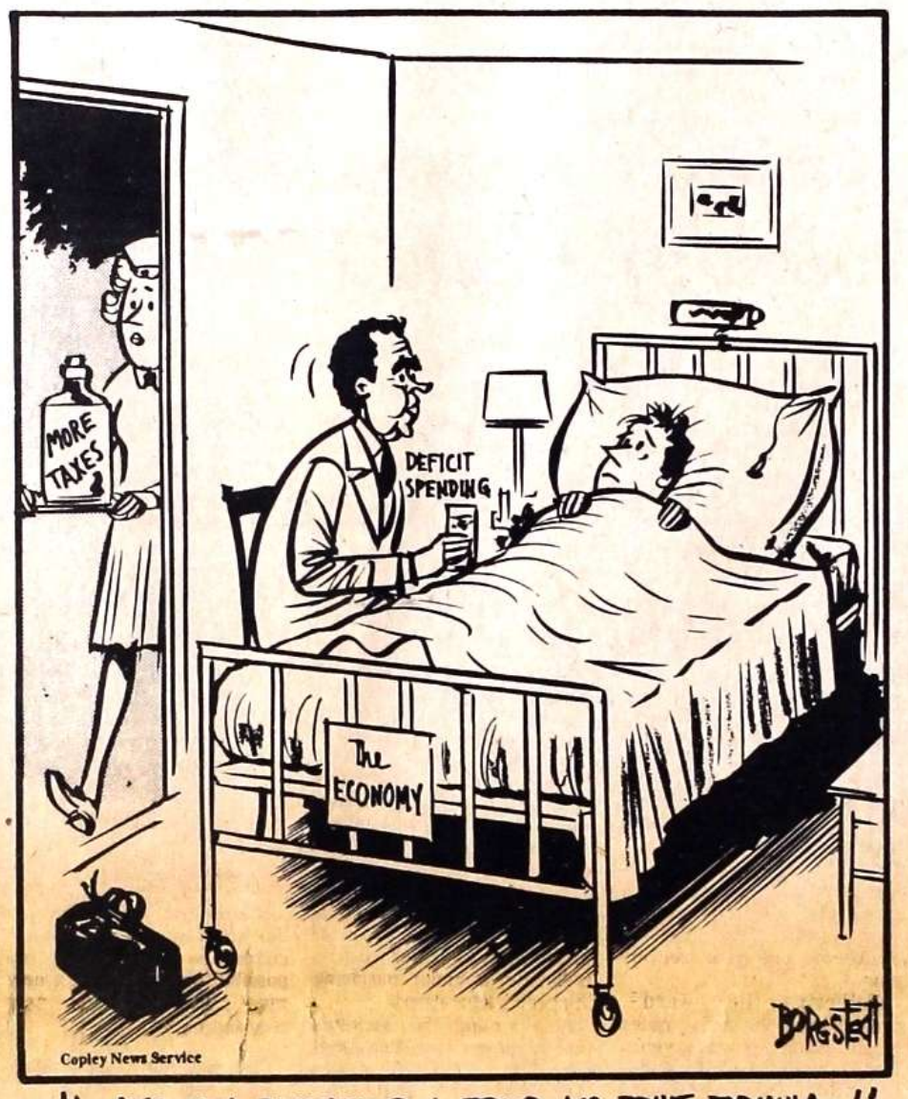

As our "space age" adolescents are so rapidly pushed into adulthood, it is hard to believe their fascination of such a simple thing as a lighted match or candle and the flame it produces, or a beaker of boiling water, or a firsthand experience with a thermometer.

The ability to see, to observe, to question, to decide, to do these skills are needed throughout life. We practice these in all our studies, but particularly in math and science. This is how we learn. It is not magic. It is hard work!

Learning is experiencing. Learning is doing. Too many of our students do not want to be involved. Many are satisifed to always be spectators. They are short-changing themselves.

Their "magic wand" is to become involved and do.

A teacher's "magic wand" starts with massive quantities of patience well seasoned with love and understanding acquired by the experience of living and working with children. Cherish it.

Van Buren must work for protection

To the editor:

Much has been said about the expansion of Willow Run Airport as a freight facility to help relieve the growing congestion at Metro Airport.

Throughout the discussion of the expansion, Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer has been opposed to such expansion.

As a Van Buren Township property owner, personally I can not help but to agree with Supervisor Gollwitzer. Yet when we look over the possibilities for a freight terminal in the metropolitan Detroit area, it seems Willow Run is just about the only place that is available.

I do not look forward to having more aircraft flying low over the area, or having my television programs further disturbed by such aircraft. However, although Supervisor Gollwitzer is acting with the feelings of most of us in Van Buren Township, I tend to feel the forces we are opposing will eventually have their way with the airport expansion.

We are being opposed by the FAA of the U.S. government, the Wayne Road Commission, all the airlines at Metro, General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and many others.

In the best interests of the entire metropolitan Detroit area, the expansion of Willow Run airport is very necessary.

If this expansion takes place, Van Buren Township will suffer great damage in both lost tax revenue and lost area. The lost area will make regaining the lost tax revenue almost impossible. Also, the low flying aircraft from both Metro and Willow Run will make much of Van Buren Township like living on the airport itself.

However, due to the need for this facility and due to the limited number of people who will be adversely affected by the building of this facility, and considering the far greater number of people that will benefit by the building of this facility, I do not see how we can stop it.

Therefore, I believe that a more realistic approach to this problem would be to work for proper compensation for all the people of Van Buren Township. Both in lost tax base now and in the future and for the losses suffered by the residents of Van Buren Township, now and in the future.

Not all the losses will be immediately apparent. However, once the facility is built and in operation,it is generally too late to be compensated for losses due to noise, pollution, closed roads, etc. However, with Van Buren Township as a partner in the expansion, I believe, as residents, we would be in a much better position to be heard and properly compensated.

As before stated, the few voices and votes we represent, as compared to the number of people in the entire area, really gives us very little to bargain with to stop the expansion of Willow Run Airport.

However, as an injured minority, I believe we stand a much better chance of proper treatment.

To provide the money for such compensation should be up to those who most benefit by the expansion of the airport facility.

Due to the fact that I do not believe opposing the airport expansion will do any good, I believe that our elected representatives could serve us far better by working for proper protection of the interests of the residents of Van Buren Township than by opposing forces far stronger than they are.

If Supervisor Gollwitzer's opposition to the expansion of Willow Run Airport is actually to this end, then I whole heartedly support him.

Scouts mark 62nd birthday

The anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America fell yesterday, marking the 62nd birthday of the Scouting organization.

The nation has good reason to cherish its Boy Scouts as never before. As the Scouts pursue their anniversary observation this month, adults will be reminded that such things as self-reliance and good citizenship remain very much in vogue where it counts most - amidst a major segment of the youth into whose hands the reins of community leadership and business will fall a few years hence.

One of the most important aspects of Scouting is an appreciation of the outdoors and of learning to live with the most rudimentary tools of survival.

Under the patient guidance of volunteer Scout leaders, young boys from every walk of life come to that amphitheater of nature where all are equal - the Boy Scout camp.

They return a little wiser, a little more humble and with a little more understanding of the great land in which they are privileged to live.

The entire nation benefits from the Scouting experience, thus the entire nation should extend best wishes to the Scouts on their birthday.

Presidential primary, state lottery probable

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

It seems increasingly likely that Michigan will join the numerous other states that will be holding presidential primaries this year. There is considerable support for this plan to give voters here a part in selecting candidates for the presidency.

It is also very likely that our voters will have a chance this spring to vote on a constitutional amendment to permit controlled lotteries in the state.

The Senate already has passed a measure to establish a spring presidential preference primary. The idea has strong bi-partisan support although there are some differences of opinion on just how it is to be conducted. The primary is to be held in May.

The proposal will accomplish two things. It will permit voters to express their preference on presidential candidates and also to elect precinct delegates.

The Senate bill provides for delegates to a party's national convention to be chosen at the state convention. However, national convention delegates must be selected in proportion to the vote in the presidential preference portion of the election.

For example, if a party's total vote in the primary is one million votes and a particular candidate receives 100,000 votes, 10 per cent of the party's national delegation must be committed to that candidate.

Voters also could mark an "uncommitted' column on the ballot instead of a particular presidential candidate. Thus it would be possible for a portion of the national delegation to be uncommitted and free to vote for any candidate at the convention.

Candidates for precinct delegate also would run either committed to a presidental candidate or uncommitted. Delegates to the succesively higher conventions would be selected from among the lower convention delegates, or from persons who were not delegates, including persons holding public office.

The state's national convention delegates would be pledged to their presidential candidate until that candidate withdraws or releases them. If that should happen, they would be able to vote for any candidate.

The lottery proposal already had been approved by both the House and Senate, but there remain certain minor differences which must be worked out. One of these is the date of the vote. In its present form, it calls for a vote on Aug. 8. However, the House leadership has proposed that this be changed to April.

An amendment in the House would set a special election for April 3. This would be in line with numerous local elections across the state.

The proposed constitutional amendment would remove the existing ban against lotteries in the state. State officials are looking at the lottery proposal as a means to ease the state's hard-pressed financial situation. Thus, it is reasoned that the sooner the issue gets before voters, the sooner the state can profit from this additional revenue.

New Hampshire instituted the first state lottery in 1963 and was followed by New York and New Jersey. While the New Hamshire and New York lotteries have not been as successful as many hoped, the one in New Jersey has been an outstanding success, mainly because of its simplicity and accessibility. It has brought the state $25 million a year in new revenue and promopted other states to consider the lottery.

It is envisioned that a lottery in Michigan could raise between $11 million and $25 million a year, to be divided between state and local units of government.

If the constitutional ban against lotteries is lifted, the legislature would be able to move ahead with the type and form it wants for Michigan. It is likely that lotteries would be restricted to the state and or charitable institutions.

Project SEED fills bill

By TERREL M. LeCESNE Principal, Beverly Elementary School Romulus

Last school year the Beverly School in Romulus participated in a unique mathematics program known as "Project SEED." Originating in California about nine years ago. Project SEED is a math curriculum that involved the same conceptually-oriented algebra that is taught in high school and college.

Originally started in one fifth grade class with notable success, the program was expanded to include the other fifth graders and a fourth grade class.

The course was offered as a supplement to the regular math curriculum and taught by graduate students from the University of Michigan and the regular teachers.

Evaluation of pupil achievement was conducted by an outside agency using the Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills. The tests were given to all fifth graders at the end of the school year.

The results indicate that many pupils made significant gains in mathematics achievement with many scoring in the average and above average levels.

More significant, however, is the apparent high level of interest in math that is being exhibited by the pupils. Enthusiasm for math is especially evident in the classrooms where pupils seem to enjoy working out equations and other tough algebraic problems.

This year the program will be continued with the fifth and sixth graders.

We feel fortunate to have been chosen to participate in Project SEED, and were proud to be among the few schools selected. We don't expect to make mathematicians out of every pupil, but we do aim to offer every child an enriched and meaningful mathematics experience at Beverly and feel that Project Seed fills the bill adequately.

Belleville vocational building is praised

To the Editor:

I wanted to take the time to write to you and give you my impressions of a tour I took today of the new vocational building. I want to commend the people of Belleville for their foresight in equipping a building of this type. Your school board and administrators should also receive a bouquet in bringing this to the attention of the people.

Here is a building that will help to equip our youngsters of today to be able citizens of tomorrow by teaching them car mechanics, welding, tune ups, metal finishing, painting, etc. They will develop good work habits, which is always an asset.

The Board of Education, I feel, made a fine investment, which will pay many, many dividends in the future. Industry today is so badly in need of good mechanics, electricians and auto body repair people.

Many other school districts could use Belleville as an example. Many of our potential drop outs would still be in schools today if they had the vocational training program similarly offered by your school system.

There has been a tendency on behalf of parents to push their youngsters to go to college. Why? What is wrong if your son were to say, I don't want to go to college, I want to be a carpenter, a mechanic, an electrician or a welder! Nothing would be wrong with that because these vocations are just as important as our college people.

I don't live in Belleville but I'm certainly happy to see a community such as yours, where the taxpayers invest their tax dollars wisely in a worthwhile project.

I would urge any "Doubting Thomas" to take a tour of this building and you will walk away proud of your investment!

March of Dimes dance help praised

To the editor:

The Romulus Jaycees, along with the Michigan March of Dimes Association, would like to thank everyone who participated in the March of Dimes Dance held on Jan. 29.

Without the fine support of the townspeople and local businesses, the dance could never have been the great success that it was.

The Romulus Jaycees are proud to be a part of such a fine community.

Valentine party set for seniors

The regular meeting of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club, to be held tomorrow (Thursday) at the Edgemont Elementary School, 125 Edgemont St., Belleville, will include a Valentine Party.

The party will follow the regular business session and bingo.

Each member is requested to bring a valentine and a small lunch box. Coffee and tea will be furnished by the club. After lunch and bingo, the usual card games may be enjoyed by those who wish to play.

On Friday, members are invited to the Ypsilanti Senior Citizens Valentine Party. Members are asked to call William Moser at 697-8552 if they plan to attend.

In last week's issue of the Belleville Enterprise, the address of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cullen of 1934 Harmon St., Ypsilanti, was incorrectly reported as 1934 Harmony Lane, Belleville.

Dial-a-ride studied by Romulus group

The Advisory Commitee for the Romulus office of the Family and Neighborhood Services Agency met last Thursday to hear reports concerning a proposed Dial-A-Ride transportation service and to investigate possibilities for local sale of food stamps.

The advisory group will continue to investigate solutions to transportation problems experienced by residents who can't take advantage of certain services because of lack of transportation facilities.

Evaluations were made of a voter registration drive conducted by the Romulus Concerned Parents group and of a Christmas workshop sponsored by the Romulus Community Workers. A report was given concerning testimony on welfare reform.

Members also heard about an in-service training program on racism.

The next meeting of the Advisory Council will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the agency office, 37064 Goddard Rd., on Thursday, March 2.

Sub makes error

— A nuclear-powered submarine, transferring water used as a coolant, inadvertently discharged 500 gallons into the Thames River.

The coolant was being transferred from the nuclear attack submarine Dace to the submarine tender Fuller.

MICHIGAN'S TOP SALESMEN - Belleville resident Bob Hayes (left), owner of Gad-A-Boat in Livonia, and Jack Ferguson (right) owner of Triangle Boats in Detroit, are congratulated by John Nawara, president of the Michigan Marine Distributing Co., as the state's top dealers for Starcraft boats and campers. Nawara presented the men with trophies for their 1971 achievements at a dinner in Detroit last week. Hayes is secretary of the Michigan Marine & Snowmobilers Association, sold more Starcraft campers last year than any other dealer in Michigan.

Awards presented to cubs of Pack 1071

Cub Scout Pack 1071, sponsored by the First United Methodist Church of Belleville, held its January meeting on Monday, Jan. 31.

The following awards were made:

DEN 7: Jeff Smrcka, Leonard Bourdeau, Randy Thorne, Bobcat; John Parker, Gold Arrow and one year service star.

DEN 10: Leslie Ferguson, Wolf Badge. WEBELOS: Paul Daugherty, Larry Smrcka, Ron Frederick, Norman MacDermit, and Mike Trevorrow, Athlete; Randy Hubler, one year service star and Webelo colors and book.

The Webelos earned the right to have the achievement and attendance award for the month.

Adults receiving awards were Mrs. Anita Parsons, past secretary, one year service star and Mrs. Sharon Matthews, one year service star.

Following the award presentation, the rocket races began. Each boy was given a kit to complete by pack night. On display were rockets of different design and color. Trophies are presented for the first place in racing and also for the best design.

They are as follows: First place in racing, Ron Frederick, trophy and first place ribbon. First place in design, Mike Trevorrow, trophy and ribbon. Second place in racing, Randy Hubler, ribbon. Third place in racing, Mike Trevorrow, ribbon.

All the boys received a gold ribbon reading "Space Derby" as a momento of this year's race.

Coming events will include an ice skating party at Metro Park on Feb. 12 and the Blue and Gold Banquet on Feb. 28 at the church. Also another roller skating party and the Pinewood Derby is in the makings.

Area coeds named to EMU society

Fifty-eight sophomores and juniors attending Eastern Michigan University became members of the Stoic Society at an initiation and reception held at the university Jan. 30.

Among the new members were Miss Ann O'Beay, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth O'Beay of 11705 Beckley Rd., Belleville, a sophomore majoring in voice; and Miss Catherine Dyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Dyer of 10820 Morton-Taylor Rd., Belleville, a junior majoring in special education.

Also among the society's new members was Miss Janet Simmons of 8516 Wahrman Rd., Romulus. Janet is a sophomore majoring in history.

New Stoic members are selected from all scholastically eligible sophomores and juniors by recommendation of fellow students and faculty members.

The Stoic Society is EMU's oldest continuous honorary society. It was organized in 1909 by J. Stuart Lathers, professor of oratory.

It maintains a loan fund and scholarship funds established during the past 60 years by faculty, students and alumni to honor distinguished educators.

Kiwanis may change meetings

The Belleville Kiwanis Club has selected a seven-member committee to look into the possibilities of locating a new meeting place and new meeting night.

The club has been holding its regular meetings at Rogalle's Supper Lounge, located at Haggerty Road and the I-94 Expressway.

The club, recently received notification that, starting Feb. 15, the price of meals would be increased at Rogalle's.

The committee members are chairman Don Meyer, Dale E. Kultz, Bert Smith, John Keller, William Matthews, Ed Hudge and Don White.

Mahalak is appointed to youth services group

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) has named to a special House committee that will study ways to make local youth service bureaus more effective.

Mahalak was appointed to the special committee by House Speaker William A. Ryan.

"Plans have been developed at the national level, using federal and other funds, to establish community-based youth services bureaus," Mahalak explained. "The work of such bureaus has been described as preventive rather than punitive. The purpose is to be helpful in such cases to all persons involved, rather than being abrasive and force-oriented. The bureaus attempt to refer the problems of youth brought on by an increasingly complex society to existing and comtemplated social services."

"However, it has become evident that a gap exists between available services and the youth in need of them. This is particularly the case when attempting to deal with hard-to-reach youths who are conditioned to be defiant to any form of authority. If the youth services bureaus are to be effective as possible we must find ways to bridge that gap. This is the purpose of the study by this special committee."

The committee will study the concept of the youth services bureau and its application to the problem of teen-age crime in Michigan, then report its findings and recommendations back to the legislature.

"This work with youth is a critical area in the state and national fight against the growth of criminal elements in our society," Mahalak stated. "Hopefully, out of this committee study will come more effective ways to prevent youths who may be inclined toward crime from becoming adult criminals."

Traffic survey ordered

A traffic survey on parking conditions in the Huron River Estates subdivision has been ordered by the Romulus City Council.

The council instructed Police Chief Jacob J. Koch to make the survey following complaints by some residents.

The police chief reported Monday that in making preliminary check into the council's request, he found two stop signs missing as well as some fire lane signs.

The Huron River Estates subdivision is located on Huron River Drive, south of Wabash Street.

'Lion in Winter' offered by Guild

The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford's newly refurbished Guild building takes on the appearance of English King Henry II's French residence at Chinon when the curtain rises for "The Lion in Winter."

All members of the cast are known in the Detroit area for previous performances: Howard Egan as the indefatiguable Henry II and Moya Taormina as the unconquerable Eleanor lead this classic family struggle for power.

Their three sons, Richard (ultimately to be Richard the Lion-hearted), Geoffrey, and John are portrayed by J. Craig Collicott, Warren Reinecker and Russ Vogel.

The young French princess, Alais, but a pawn in this momentous chess game, is played by Kati Beddow, and her brother, Phillip I, King of France, acted by Hamilton Aldridge Jr.

Producted by Phil Matora and directed by Mary Ann Vosgerchian, Lion in Winter will be performed Fridays and Saturdays, Feb. 11, 12; 18, 19; and 25, 26. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for all performances which will be held at the Guild building 15138 Beech-Daily Rd. at Five Mile Rd. Seating will be reservation only, phone 261-0360 or 425-3796.

AGING QUEEN — These are the many faces of Glenda Jackson as Queen Elizabeth I. She ranges in age of 17 through 69 in the upcoming Masterpiece Theatre series "Elizabeth R" which will premiere on Channel 56 at 9 p.m. Sunday. The series is in six, 90-minute shows.

Glenda Jackson stars in upcoming TV series

"Elizabeth R," starring Academy Award winner Glenda Jackson, premieres on Masterpiece Theatre Sunday at 9 p.m. over the Public Broadcasting Service.

This six part, 90-minute-per episode series on the life of Queen Elizabeth I achieved the largest audience for a drama on British television.

As with the highly successful "The Six Wives of Henry VIII," the plays are written by different authors, but together they present a chronological picture of one of the most colorful periods in English history.

In each of the six episodes, the audience is introduced to a different face of Elizabeth R: as a young princess flirting with Thomas Seymour, husband of one of her father's former wives; as the 25-year-old monarch caught up in her great romance with the Earl of Leicester; as Europe's most eligible queen, fending off foreign suitors; as a shrewd schemer playing cat and mouse with her cousin, Mary Queen of Scots; as a heroine who inspires England to defeat the Spanish Armada; and as an aging dowager who begins her sad decline.

The first episode, "The Lion's Cub," was written by John Hale, whose screenplay for "Anne of a Thousand Days," written with Bridget Boland, won a nomination for the Academy Award and wards from the Writers' Guild of America.

Elizabeth is portrayed by Miss Jackson, who won the 1970 Academy Award for best actress in "Women in Love," and was chosen as actress of the year by the New York Film Critics.

Ronald Hines plays William Cecil, Daphne Slater plays Mary Tudor, Peter Jeffrey portrays Philip of Spain and Rachel Kempson is Kat Ashley, Elizabeth's governess.

Four members of the cast of "The Six Wives of Henry VIII" continue in the same roles -- Rosalie Crutchley as Catherine Parr, John Ronane as Thomas Seymour, Bernard Hepton as Thomas Cranmer and Basil Dignam as Gardiner, Bishop of Winchester and Lord Chancellor.

As is usual in all Masterpiece Theatre series, Alistair Cooke sets the scene and introduces the characters.

Masterpiece Theatre is presented on the Public Broadcasting Service, a network of 200 stations. The entire series is made possible by a grant from Mobil Oil Corp.

'Joan of Arc' tomorrow at Ford

Stage, screen and concert star Vera Zorina heads a list of guests who will appear with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in Arthur Honegger's large-scale dramatic oratorio "Joan of Arc at the Stake."

The work will comprise the entire Detroit Symphony program to be conducted hy Sixten Ehrling, this Thursday and Saturday evening at 8:30 p.m. in Ford Auditorium.

"Joan of Arc at the Stake" calls for a large assemblage of performers--narrators, vocal soloists, mixed chorus, children's choir and full orchestra. The Detroit Symphony has never before scheduled the work, which was written in 1935.

Vera Zorina will narrate the role of Joan of Arc. It is the same role that led to a career as a concert stage narrator for Miss Zorina. She was invited by the late conductor Arthur Rodzinski to create the role for the American premiere of the work in 1948 and since then has been praised as the leading interpreter of the oratorio.

The Detroit performances will be given in English.

Other participants will include the Rev. James Dockery, S.J. in a narrator's role. Also vocal soloists Roberta Alexander, soprano; Trudie Stevenson, soprano; Rosemary Russell, contralto; Waldie Anderson, tenor; John Martins, tenor; and Daniel Berry, bass baritone. Also the University of Michigan Choir, Maynard Klein, director, in its first Detroit Symphony appearances, and the Boy Choir of Christ Church, Episcopal, Grosse Pointe, Edgar Billups, director.

Christmas Club seeks new members

The Christmas Club, which is composed of people born on Christmas Day, is seeking members. Information is available by writing Marion Sypyska at 6120 Crown Ave., Westland.

Members of the Club who may have moved are also asked to get in touch with Mrs. Sypyska.

Sandler, Young at Elmwood

Tony Sandler and Ralph Young begin a nine-day engagment at the Elmwood Casino in Windsor tomorrow.

Sandler and Young met in Europe when both were rehearsing for a Las Vegas revue. Young was born in America, while Sandler is a native of Belgium.

In addition to their many record albums, they are regularly seen as guests on network TV shows, including the Kraft Music Hall, Merv Griffin and Johnny Carson.

The Wally Schaefer Orchestra backs the acts and plays for dancing.

'Cabaret' to open

The original Broadway stars of "Cabaret" also have the leads in the screen version which will open Feb. 23 at the Mai Kai Theatre in Livonia.

Liza Minnelli and Joel Grey play the starring rolls in the musical.

Clock watching for fun, profit

"Clock Watching for Fun and Profit" could well be the title of the next Henry Ford Museum Antiques Lecture on Friday evening.

William H. Distin, administrative assistant and Curator of Special Collections will talk about the ins and outs of collecting clocks at 8:30 p.m. in the Museum Theatre.

The fascination of clocks reaches almost everyone, whether it be with how they work, with their appearance, with how they sound or with the variety of unusual forms they often take.

Distin's lecture, titled "Building a Collection: Clocks," covers all of these things and more.

After a very short exploration of the history of clocks, he will discuss how to date clocks, how to recognize styles, how to tell if a clock has been altered or tampered with and what is collectible today.

In most cases, Distin will deal separately with clock cases and clock works. As he points out in his lecture, only rarely were antique clocks produced as a unit. Sometimes there is as much as 30 or 40 years age difference between them. Case clocks especially can be collected for either their cases or for their works, depending on the interest of the collector, he says.

Using more than 60 color slides of clocks from the Museum collections to illustrate his lecture, Distin will also discuss the effect of refinishing and replacement of parts on the collectibility of a clock and what effect the running order has.

As curator, Distin is responsible for the more than 3,600 clocks and watches in the collection which is considered one of the most significant anywhere. The collection is constantly being refined and upgraded under his direction, and it is from this vantage that he will compare a good clock from a collector's view with what is a better one and what is the best.

This is the third in the current series of lectures, which are being given by the Museum's Decorative Arts Curators. The lectures examine the collections and discuss the total process of forming growing collections and caring for them. They are designed to inform the new collector and to provide new collecting insights to those who are more experienced.

Tickets are $2 each and are available at the box office.

NEW MEMBERS - R. Lynne Hamilton (left), president of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce, welcomes two new members into the chamber at its general membership meeting held at Rogalle's Supper Lounge last Thursday night. The new members are John Madga and Joanne Bodenmiller, operators of a sporting goods and men's pants store in Belleville.

Clean air drive is formed

A group of tri-county citizens concerned about clean air are organizing a petition drive to see that a bill which would give more teeth to current pollution laws gets through the Michigan Senate.

The group, consisting primarily of high school and college students, is pushing for adoption of House Bill 4260, which was passed by the House last July and is now laying in committee in the Senate.

"The bill would take the current pollution bill and make it stronger, in essence," explained Mary Cullity, a member of the Wayne-Westland Recycling Center.

"We would like to issue a plea for help in our campaign. We would like to build support and are asking other ecology clubs, church, school and civic groups to join with us."

"If we can get House Bill 4260 passed, the State of Michigan would have one of the best air pollution bills in this country," said Miss Cullity.

The petition drive is slated to begin in force Feb. 12 and run to Feb. 29. The signatures collected will be turned over to the respective senators.

The Wayne-Westland Recycling Center is gathering signatures from residents of District 13, which is represented by Senator William Faust.

The area covered in District 13 includes Wayne, Westland, Belleville, Garden City, part of Inkster, Romulus, Taylor and Van Buren, Huron townships.

The ecology group hopes to man a booth in Westland Shopping Center from Feb. 18-20. Persons interested in distributing petitions can call Miss Cullity at 722-0342.

"Industry is going to be lobbying against us, we know that, but we think we can get enough support to see the bill passed," predicted the clean air enthusiast.

She added that, although the current effort was tri-county in scope, members of the group are investigating a statewide effort.

R. Brown enrolled

Ron Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Brown of 7750 Marlowe, Belleville, has enrolled for the spring semester at Lubbock Christian College. Brown is a returning junior majoring in Bible.

LCC is a small, private, senior college offering BA and BS degrees in 16 majors.

MEETING THE SPEAKER - Theodore H. Kuckelman (right), executive director of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce, meets Lawrence M. Carino, vice president and general manager of WJBK-TV 2, who was the principal speaker at last Thursday's membership meeting of the chamber held at Rogalle's Supper Lounge.

Gehringer picked to head ADF/71

Charles L. Gehringer, Detroit businessman and former Tiger all-time baseball great, has been named by John Cardinal Dearden to be lay-chairman of ADF-72.

In this annual campaign, the Archdiocesan Development Fund Drive (ADF) usually receives close to $2 million for ongoing operations and charities and for a special one-year goal.

A priest-chairman will be selected later to serve with Gehringer for the campaign, which climaxes early in May after weeks of preparation by a committee.

Setting to work with the efficiency that made him baseball's fabled "mechanical man" and later a leader in automotive business circles, Gehringer said he expected his ADF job to be easy.

"All our committee has to do," he said, "is organize to get out the word — let Catholics know of past ADF accomplishments and this year's target. People appreciate a good thing when they see it."

Babe Ruth had many fans but he himself was a fan of Charley Gehringer, second baseman extraordinary, who amazed the home-run king by "doing everything right."

The "mechanical man" racked up a .320 lifetime batting average, hit .500 in six All-Star games, was charged with only 309 errors in 2,322 major-league games, was 1937's most valuable player in the American League and in 1949 became the 56th player voted into baseball's Hall of Fame.

Today Gehringer lives in semi-retirement in suburban Beverly Hills. He usually is on hand for Hall of Fame inductions although he had not thought it fitting to appear for his own.

WSCS meets Monday

By PEARL MORRIS
Phone WH-1-1187

The Romulus W.S.C.S. will meet Monday, Feb. 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the dining room of the United Methodist Church on Olive Street. Mrs. Josephine Rehkopf is the president. All ladies of the church are urged to attend.

A new women's circle is being formed for the younger women of the United Methodist Church.. They will meet Feb. 15 at 10 a.m. at the church. Babysitting will be provided.

Under Romulus' Continuing Education program, four classes are opening tonight (Feb. 9) in the winter semester: Decoupage, the art of attaching prints to wooden and glass surfaces for making purses, plaques, jewelry boxes, etc; 7 to 9 p.m., Romulus High; Bishop Sewing I, a structural approach taught on a demonstration basis; 7-9 p.m., Romulus High; Conversational Spanish, 7-9 p.m., Romulus High; Knitting, a beginning course emphasizing primary skills of this useful and entertaining hobby; 7-9 p.m., Romulus High. Payment of fees will be necessary on the first evening of class. However, Romulus residents 65 and older are invited to participate in Continuing Education classes without cost, materials and supplies excepted.

Mrs. Ed (Jean) Williams of Sterling Street, who suffered a heart attack a few weeks ago, remains a patient at this writing at Annapolis Hospital, Wayne. She would enjoy hearing from local friends.

Sunday morning worship services, starting Feb. 20, will begin at 9 a.m. instead of 9:30 a.m. at the United Methodist Church, Huron River Drive, New Boston. This earlier time will enable Rev. Hal Ferris, pastor of both the Romulus and New Boston United Methodist churches, to teach an Adult Sunday School class in Romulus beginning at 10:15 a.m.

Local 4-H members may be interested in a lecture on "Voltige" (mounted gymnastics which will be held Feb. 19 at 7 p.m. at the Batton Farms Inc., 64500 Eight Mile Road (1.6 miles west of Pontiac Trail). Refreshments will be served and there will be a question and answer period. Donation is $1.

A Wayne County Junior Leader meeting will be held 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 14, at the 4-H Fairgrounds, quirk Road, Belleville. The time is 7:30 p.m.

An 8 a.m. Sunday morning breakfast was a special occasion for the Romulus-New Boston Methodist Men's Club, when the wives were guests of the members at their February meeting. Scrambled eggs with bacon and sausage and hot rolls were on the menu, which was served at the Romulus church.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil DeLangis of Miralest, Calif., were recent visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Glaab, on Hannan Road. The couple flew here for a week's visit.

Saturday night callers of the Pete Glaabs were Sister Victoria from St. Mary's Convent in Monroe and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Leona Merrill of Allen Park.

Last Thursday visitors at the Grant VanAernum home on Romulus Avenue were her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones of Leslie, and their daughter, Mrs. Maurice Tavernie, also of Leslie. Sunday callers were Mrs. VanAernum's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Broesamle, of Hillsdale.

A 4-H Dog Training meeting will be held Wednesday, Feb. 16, at 7 p.m. at the 4-H Fairgrounds near Belleville.

A life-time New Boston resident, Joseph Bodary, 87, passed away Friday. Funeral services were held 9:15 a.m. Monday, Feb. 7, at Robt. Bobcean Funeral Home in Flat Rock and 10:15 a.m. at St. Stephen's Church, New Boston. Interment was in Michigan Memorial Park.

Mrs. Pat Radtke, Girl Scout leader, held a pajama party for her group of Campfire "Blue Birds" on Friday (Jan. 28) at her home

Attending were: Colleen Boik, Lucy Burt, Rondi McElhone, Karen Gilstorff, Dee Dee Griner, Judy Heitz, Tara Herrell, Brenda Higgins, Lisa Irvin, Dawn Olmstead, Dawn Radtke, Suzy Sapienza, Tammy Schram, Leanne Venier and Kelly Wheeler.

The girls held a puppet show, using puppets they had made from old socks. They also played several games, danced and had a fashion show. Robin Olmstead, a Camp Fire Girl, was Mrs. Radtke's helper for the party.

The girls returned to their homes after enjoying breakfast the following morning.

Pancake dinner set at church

A Pancake Festival will be sponsored this Saturday (Feb. 12) at the United Methodist Church, 11160 Olive St., Romulus, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Sponsors are the Youth Fellowship groups of the Romulus and New Boston United Methodist churches, who want to raise money to enable them to travel to a mission in Kentucky this April.

Admission to the pancake dinner is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents children 6 to 12 years.

Children under five will be admitted free.

Christine Bevard is finalist

Miss Christine (Tina) Bevard, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Bevard of 47105 Bemis Rd., Belleville, was one of the 15 finalists who competed recently last Thursday evening at the Detroit Photo Show.

Miss Barbara Barrett of Birmingham, Mich., was crowned Miss Detroit Photo Show in ceremonies held in the Light Guard Armory, 4400 E. Eight Mile Rd., Detroit.

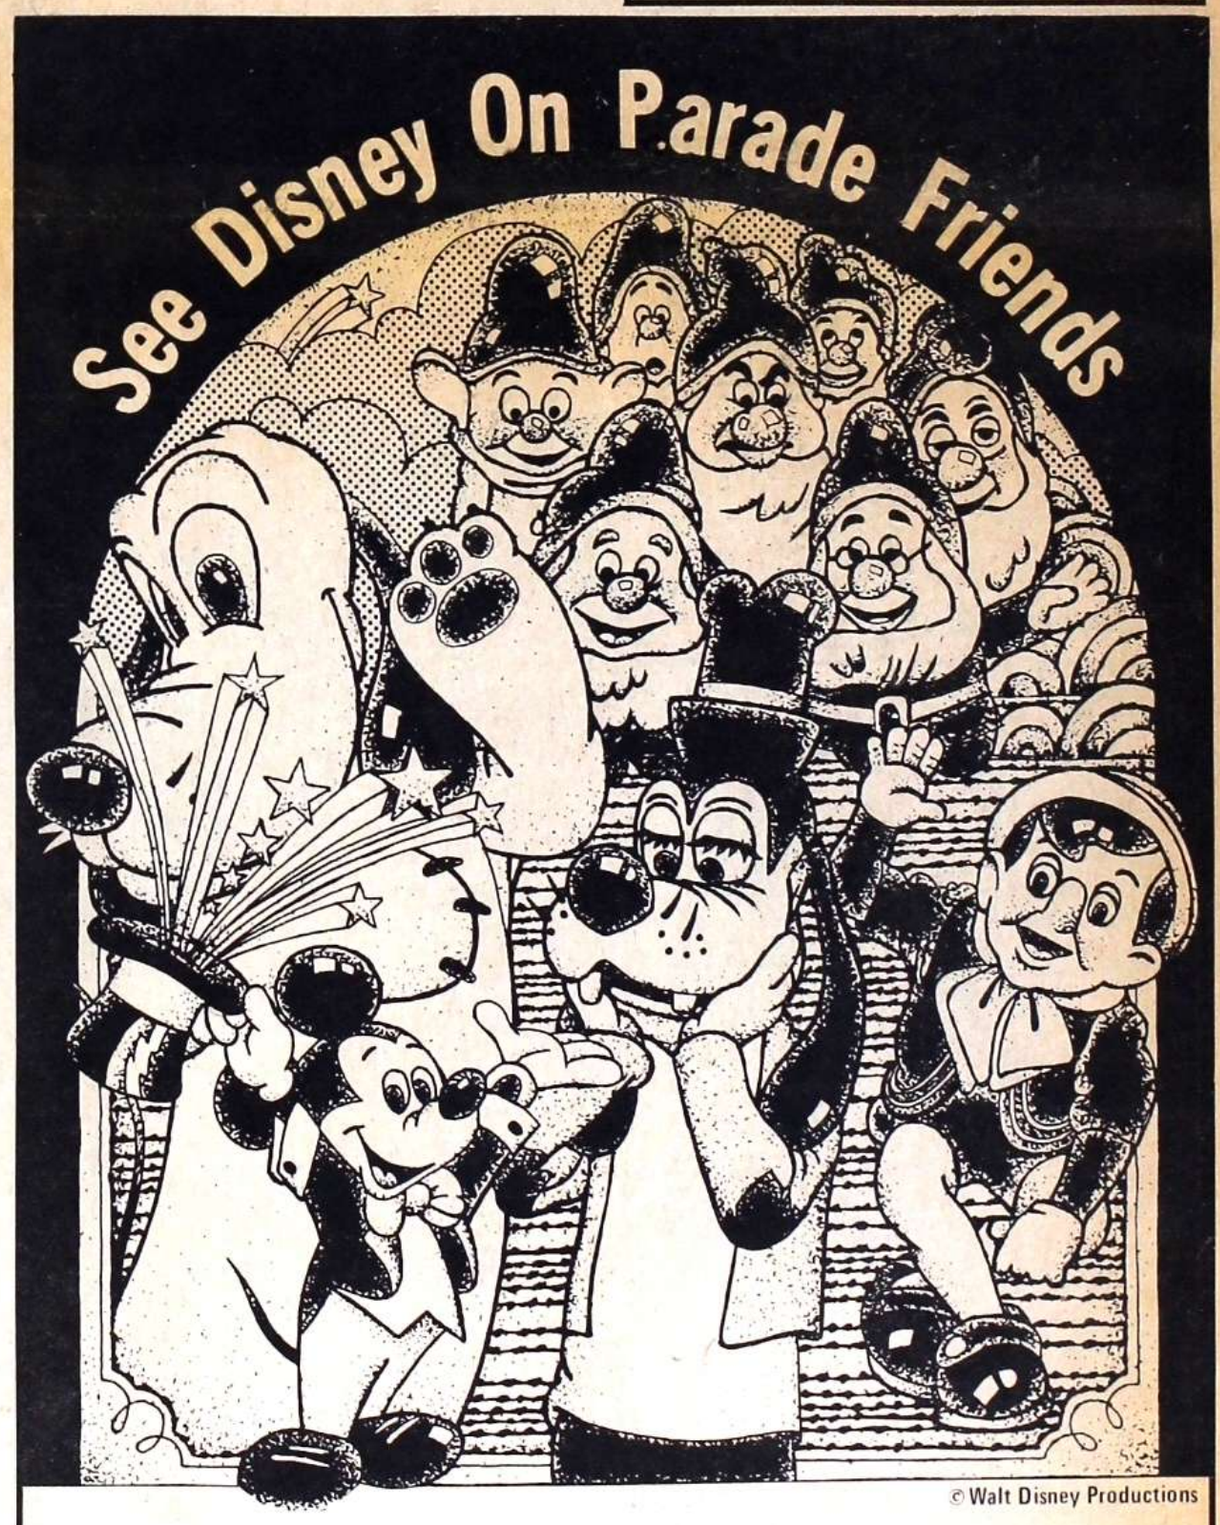

Christine, currently employed as a secretary, is a graduate of Belleville Senior High School.

Train losses vary

Unclaimed items lost on British railroads, and offered at a recent auction, included a slot machine, five commodes, 20 pairs of hot pants, 600 packages of bra straps and one bust developer.

Sergeant tells students of horrifying statistics

By LORI PULVER
Belleville High School Student

"What is a Washtenaw county sheriff doing here?" "Did someone get into trouble?" "Who is he?".

Whispers of wonder and excitement were heard in Belleville High School halls Feb. 2 as Washtenaw County Police Sgt. Tom Kelly gave a speech on traffic safety in place of his boss, Sheriff Douglas Harvey.

Several classes were invited to a special assembly sponsored by the "Tiger Print" (School newspaper) in order to give classes an idea of what traffic safety means and what it includes.

The guest speaker described the degrees of death as such:

1) Dead, Dead, Dead — with that goes kidnaping and or a child murder.

2) Dead, Dead, — which describes a robbery or theft.

3) Dead — which includes traffic accidents.

Sgt. Kelly pointed out people are more upset with the type of death number one, than number three, because they are the type people get "fired up" about.

He also pointed out that more people were killed in auto accidents than in the war in Vietnam — 56,000 people lost their lives and approximately 50 per cent were drunken drivers.

Sgt. Kelly also confirmed that speeding tickets are not to acquire money for the department, but if a $20 fine will keep a person from speeding and being killed, he believes it would be the best spent $20 in that person's life.

Kelly also touched on the subject of the 18-year-old drinking law and said that if last month is an example of what this law will bring, there will be no problem because the department has seen no great increase in the fatality rate for Washtenaw County.

Questions pertaining to drug laws and driving under the influence of alcohol were asked and then Sgt. Kelly left the students with the horrifying statistic:

"Within the year of 1972, one out of the 100 students here will die in an automobile accident It's not a pretty sight to look at."

Van Buren building decreases

New buildings constructed in Van Buren Township during the month of January totaled $211,952, Darryl Robson, chief building inspector, reported Monday.

The January total showed a sharp decrease in comparison with December, when building amounted to $476,752.

Total building and mechanical permits issued by the building department amounted to $3,966 as against a total of $2,165 in December.

January's residential building had a estimated construction cost of $56,952 and commercial building, $30,000, Robson reported.

The electrical division of the building department issued 44 permits and collected $901 in fees. The heating division issued 19 permits and collected $190 in fees.

Building code studied by city

A new proposed building code ordinance for the City of Romulus is now under study by city administrative officials and members of the ...mulus City Council.

The approximate 180-page document was prepared by Chief Building Inspector Clayton W. Meldrum.

Council action on the adoption of the new ordinance will be forthcoming soon, it was announced Monday.

The new building rules and regulations cover all phases of building from a small family home to large industrial complexes.

The code, to be published in paperback form, contains approximately 150 pages devoted to actual code formulas and data and 21 pages to legal terms and definitions.

The building code will be available at $4.50 per copy following city council's approval.

The city is currently using the provisions of the Building Officials Conference of America code.

'A' district playoff preview

Romulus, Inkster clash

Romulus basketball Coach Dave Court should be able to draw some conclusions on what chances his team will have for a district Class A championship after Friday night.

On Friday night Court and his Eagles will meet Inkster, one of the pre-tourney district favorites.

"They're a fine ball club," said Court whose team has been scrimmaging since beating Belleville 76-57 ten days ago. "They have height, use the fast break excellently and have a tradition of fielding outstanding cage teams.

"We're just going to have to take their style of play away from them if we are to come away from there with a victory," he pointed out.

Inkster has moved into the Class A ranks after playing as a "B" school for most of the decade. Romulus will host the district playoffs which are slated for the first week of March. Also congregating at the high school will be Westland John Glenn, Wayne Memorial and the two Taylor High schools - Kennedy and Center.

Inkster is presently undefeated in the Mid-Wayne Conference, sporting an 8-0 record while, over-all, Coach George Thompson Jr.'s quintet has compiled a 11-1 loss. The Vikings' have made the most of it thanks to 6-8 center, Andre Richardson, who is potentially dangerous on both ends of the court.

Romulus made it four straight and 10-1 over-all at the expense of area rival, Belleville. The Eagles rushed to a 23-13 first quarter lead with John Long providing the Eagles 12 points and James Hall getting six. Though the 10 point margin popped up again in Romulus' favor at halftime (35-25), the Eagles never were seriously challenged after the intermission.

The hosts increased their margin to 59-39 before coasting to the easy victory.

Mike Garland and Marty Miller split 38 Belleville points to lead the Tigers. Hall and Calvin Harris paced a balanced Romulus attack with 26 and 21 points respectively. Long counted 17 in a supporting role.

The foul routes weren't busy: Belleville shot 18 free throws and made seven as compared to six of 15 by the Eagles.

SCRAMBLE - A loose ball can generate a lot of enthusiasm as it did above when Belleville's Mike Garland stumbled over John Long in an attempt to recover the ball. Also resting up on the floor is Romulus' Calvin Harris (14) while Belleville's Marty Miller (11) is the only one left standing on his two feet. Romulus turned back their area rival 76-57 and will head for Inkster Friday night where the two nonleague adversaries should play before a standing room only audience.

Win some, lose some

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

It wouldn't be too difficult for me to pick a "loser of the week", but since I have a couple of candidates I'll leave the final selection up to you.

How about Ed Lanzi, Dearborn High wrestling coach, for prime consideration? Lanzi, the veteran Pioneer mat strategist lost a 35-21 Suburban Eight Conference dual meet to Belleville last week.

That's not really "bad". According to our reports out of Belleville however, the Dearborn coach refused to let his heavyweight wrestle all-area Keith Simons who is on the verge of setting a national record for consecutive victory by falls.

Simons has 18 in a row and needs three more victories but time is running out. Lanzi preferred to forfeit to the Belleville heavyweight, wonder why?

And since our old friend lives in Wayne, I'll bet I will learn very soon what his reasons were.

Simons' streak "is still in live", the forfeit doesn't jeopardize the string.

Then there's Northwood Institute.

I warned Fred Smiley, the former Inkster High cage great who is presently playing with the Northmen that I was the "kiss of death" when he extended an invitation to see his team in action at Eastern Michigan University Friday night. You guessed it. EMU methodically pulverized the men from Midland.

One can't blame Smiley though. The sharpshooting 5-foot-11 guard drilled in 26 points, but the Hurons ran up a 65-38 halftime score before coasting to a 120-94 victory.

And if you're wondering where former Garden City West all-area cager Dennis Lesyznski is hiding out these days, well he also went North. Dennis is playing for the Northmen and he managed to haul in several rebounds and scored six points, Friday night.

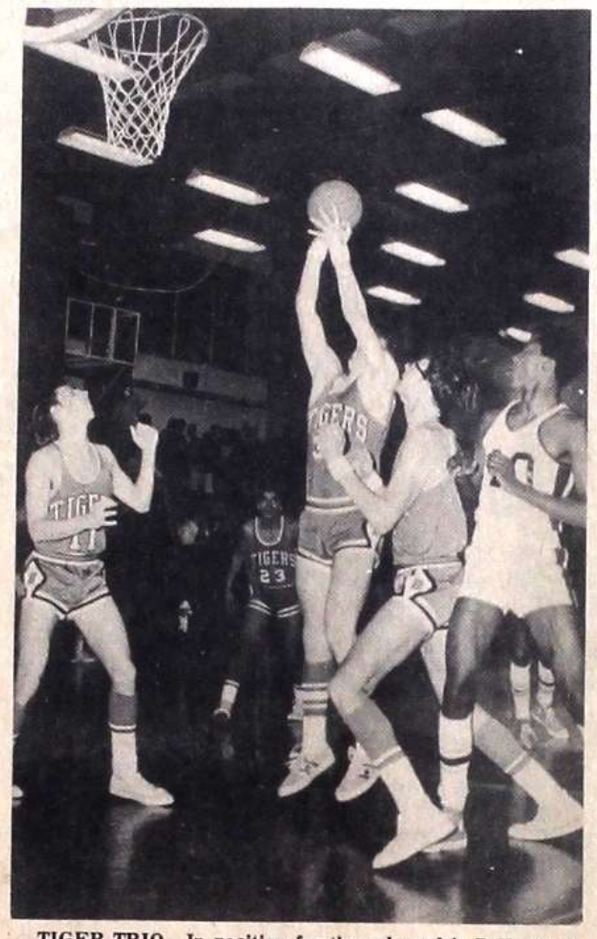

It was more like "homecoming" at Bowen Field House. There were several other all-area cagers on hand. Gary Nustad, ex-West High all-area cager, tennis player, and Tony Kaseta, former Livonia Franklin baseball-cage star, are presently wearing University of Detroit frosh cage uniforms. They helped beat EMU's freshmen team, 57-55 in the preliminary game.

Oh yes, EMU had a frosh player from this area. Si Agemy who was graduated last year from Westland John Glenn.

NO LONG SHOT HERE - Layups on considered easy two-pointers and they're made easier when Romulus' John Long (50) is on the shooting end. Long comes down after placing the ball in the nets for two of his 17 points that helped the Eagles defeat Belleville 76-57 last week. Belleville will head for Edsel Ford while Romulus clashes with Edsel Ford Friday night.

TIGER TRIO - In position for the rebound is Belleville's Mike Golden (with ball) who is flanked with teammates Keith Neeley (at right) and Marty Miller (11). Golden may have had the touch for the rebound, but Romulus had the right formula for the victory, the Eagles coming out on top of a 76-57 decision.

State swim champ dunks Belleville

Dearborn, the defending Class A state swim champ, swept nine out of a possible 11 first places in handing Belleville its second successive Suburban Eight defeat, 68-37, last week.

Belleville's all-area diver Barry Susterka had little difficulty winning his specialty was he compiled 254.50 points to place first, while the Tiger 400-yard freestyle relay team of Terry Mills, Jim Ackron, Dean Ackron and Jeff Fry teamed to produce a 3:30.8 in winning that event in record setting time.

The previous mark was 3:32.4.

Though he finished second to Ken Dunsworth in the 100-yard butterfly (56.7), Belleville's Dean Ackron also established a school record in the event when he touched in at 58.2.

"I'm proud of the kids," said Belleville coach Sam Vicchy. "They scored more points than any other team against Dearborn."

Belleville will swim Redford Union tomorrow (at R.U.) and will host a good Akron Firestone aggregation on Saturday.

Romulus matmen ready for district

Coach Jim Stallings feels it's time to start jockeying his wrestling lineup into position for the district tournaments. He came to that conclusion after his Eagles disposed of Saline 34-21 for their sixth win in nine starts.

The districts will be staged next week.

"Our kids have come around nicely," announced the veteran Romulus coach.

And how does Stallings feel about his team's chances at the Class A district?

"We have some good talent who potentially could reach the state if they put their minds to it," Stalling said.

Romulus was down 12-6 after four matches against Saline, but the Eagles came back taking six out of the seven last matches to clinch the victory.

Three of the Romulus victories were on falls. Brad Smith erased Jeff Kohler in 3:06 of the 129-pound class, Arrington dumped Mike Guenther in 1:28 while Aaron Cross pinned 158-pound rival Bob Hatfield in 3:46.

Romulus will return to the mats tomorrow when it will travel to Lutheran West.

The results of the meet are as follows:
Romulus (34), Saline (21)
101 pounds: William Powell (R) won on a forfeit
108 pounds: Russ Lindeman (S) pinned Ivory Allen (R), 3:34

When you're down there's only one way to go - and that's up. And that's what Belleville Coach Allen Gates hopes his team will do when it crashes with Edsel Ford Friday night in Dearborn.

"We're down," said Gates after his team took it on the chin from Plymouth 78-63. "And we have to snap out of it. The kids seem to feel it's all over. It isn't, I know they can play ball, and we still have two more big league games as well as the state playoffs ahead of us."

Gates threatened to call up some of his reserves if he didn't see some hustle this week.

"It's no use sticking with people who won't do the job," he said.

Belleville is one game out of the cellar with its 2-7 Suburban Eight record. A loss to Edsel (1-7) would cause a two-way tie for the last place.

There was one bright spot in Belleville's setback at Plymouth. Ed Branam is "looking his old self", pouring in five field goals and an equal amount for free throws for 15 points, his team's second highest scorer. It snapped a personal scoring slump.

Al Cicotte, plagued with fouls in the third quarter, cashed in on six field goals and five foul shots for 16, the Tigers' best individual performance.

Belleville, which had trimmed the Rocks 79-76 the first time around, trailed their hosts 22-17 in the first quarter, and was still in reach at intermission 41-35. However, Gary Close came off the Plymouth bench in the third quarter and drilled in three field goals. His teammates also took command of the boards to turn the game into a 62-48 battle after three quarters.

Despite Mike Garland's nine points in the final stanza, Belleville failed to get within reach again.

Cicotte dumped in 12 of his team's 17 first quarter points, winding up with 16, while Marty Miller and Branam led the Tigers' in the second quarter with five and seven points, respectively. Branam continued his hot shooting in the third stanza with six more points.

Ron Egloff, Plymouth's rugged center, accounted for 21 points, while the two VanWagoner brothers-Dave and Tim-chipped in 19 and 14, respectively.

Belleville realized 19 of its 28 shots at the free throw line while Plymouth put to use 15 of 26 charities.

Someone must have left the gym windows open Friday night at New Boston Huron High School for, both the host and Airport were as cold as the frigid sub-zero temperatures that mother nature imposed on the area.

But Airport warmed up in the second quarter and came back to win a 69-52 conference basketball victory to keep its share of the conference lead. It is in a 2-way, first place tie with Flat Rock.

"Neither team could hit in that first quarter," recalled Huron head coach Andy Herman whose team trailed 12-7 after the first eight minutes. "Though we were cold, I feel we played a decent first half. They just had too much power for us in the second half."

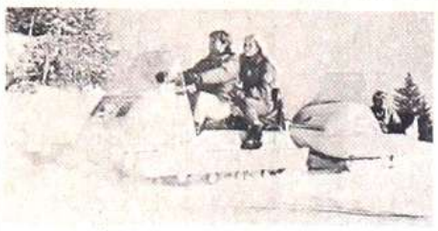

The loss left the Chiefs with a 1-9 league record and hovering above winless Monroe Jefferson in nine-team league. The Chiefs have two games scheduled this week. Last night they clashed with nonleague rival Riverview and Friday night they will head for Carlson (2-7).

Fred Cordts, whose shooting has kept the Chiefs alive most of the time this season, again put on a one-man show as he drilled in eight of his team's second quarter points to pull the Chiefs within four points of catching their visitors at the half, 29-25.

Also on the freshman roster are Glenn's William Sturtevant and Livonia Stevenson's Ted Exarhos.

One thing I couldn't figure out though, wasn't Romulus all-area, all-stater Nate Davis due to play for the EMU freshman club this year? Where's Nate disappeared?

Shifting from basketball to wrestling. If you're wondering why John Glenn and Wayne Memorial, whose combined dual meet record is something like 22-2, have been coming up with fine wrestling squads, then look to their junior high programs.

Taking nothing away from Glenn's Bob Lusk and Wayne's Don Haney, some of the credit for the wrestling program success in the Wayne-Westland Community School District should go to five devoted coaches in the junior high system.

The five Bob Wierzbicki (Adams), Dick Saine (Marshall), Keith Blank (Franklin), Tom Nakamoto (Stevenson) and John Matusek (Nankin Mills) have been doing an outstanding job providing "blue chip" candidates.

Airport downs Huron

Airport's 5-6 guard Dan Webster showed why he's leading the league in scoring. He came on with nine of his 19 points in the third quarter to help his team outscore the Chiefs 23-15 to pull them out of danger for good.

Webster's 19 points led all scorers. Teammate Charles Stamper added 17 and Ron Baker accounted for 16.

Cordts was the only Huron cager to break into double figures, hitting on five field goals and six free throws for 16. Mario Gracia's and Frank Causey each had eight points.

The Chiefs capitalized on 14 of 24 free throws as compared to Airport's 17 of 27.

'Team to beat' is next

Tigers stay undefeated

Belleville wrestlers will "meet the team to beat" in the Suburban Eight Conference tomorrow when Coach Tom Fritz' Tigers run up against Redford Union at 6 p.m.

"Redford Union is definitely the class in our league," said Fritz, whose team has compiled a 5-0-1 record and still has its sights focused on the inaugural "8" championship. "We must get the most out of our sophomores and the best out of our veterans to stop them."

Though Belleville's record was tarnished by Edsel Ford two weeks ago when the T-Birds managed to draw with the local grapplers, Belleville remains undefeated on the season. The Tigers got down to business early with Dearborn and walked off the mats with a 35-21 victory.

The victory was punctuated by controversy when Dearborn failed to field a rival for undefeated Belleville heavyweight Keith Simons, who is shooting for the national record for consecutive victories by falls. The record is 21. Keith has presently compiled 17.

Frank Horton, Jose Garcia and John Smith played key roles in giving the Tigers the important victory. All three pinned their rivals for "big 6-point victories".

When Simons walked on to the mats for the final bout, Belleville had a 29-21 edge, therefore Ed Lanzi, Dearborn High coach, felt it wasn't necessary for him to sacrifice a wrestler because the overall outcome of the meet had already been decided.

The results of the meet are as follows: Belleville (35), Dearborn (21):

101-pounds: Ford (B) dec. Wisniewski (D), 5-0
108-Smith (D) dec J. Horton (B), 8-4
115-pounds: F. Horton (B) pinned Ritenour (D), 3:10

Belleville sets WW swim stage

Despite two losses, Belleville appears ready to defend its Western Wayne Swim & Dive Invitational title. The Tigers still hold down most of the first places in this week's area listing.

Belleville will host the meet, which is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 19. Preliminaries will be held at 10:30 a.m. for diving and 1 p.m. for the swimming events.

The finals are scheduled to begin between 7 and 7:30 p.m.

Nine area high schools will be represented at the 10th annual invitational. Along with the defending champ, Livonia Franklin, Churchill Garden City East, Garden City West, Cherry Hill, Wayne Memorial, Westland John Glenn, Inkster and Dearborn Heights Robichaud will make up the field.

The winning team and coach will be awarded trophies, while swimmers who finish in the top three places will be presented medals. The fourth through sixth place finishers will get ribbons.

Admission will be 75 cents for the preliminaries and $1 for the finals.

Here is this week's area swim listings as compiled by Cherry Hill Coach Jerry Pawloski. In order to get a swimmers' time listed coaches are urged to contact Coach Pawloski at the school (PA 2-5900) or at his home 9-414-399.

4 Romulus bowlers hit 200 games

Daniel W. Gartner turned in a 220 game and Renee Mendoze notched a 211 for high individual games in the men's and lady's departments at the last meeting of the Romulus Teachers' Bowling League at Wayne Bowl.

Richard Wizgird turned in a 566 series and Mrs. Mendoza had a 517 three game total to take honors in the individual series race.

Team No. six, captained by Gartner claimed high team game honors with a 499 and also claimed a 1450 for high team series.

Over-all, the league recorded four games over 200. In addition to the games carded by Gartner and Mrs. Mendoza, 200 plus scored were rolled by J.T. Washington 213, and Wizgird rolled a 209.

'Cast' readied for trailer, camper show

Runs Feb. 19 through Feb. 27

Besides its big stars, every show must have a capable supporting cast. And the supporting cast at the fifth annual Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show is first-rate.

The show runs from Saturday, Feb. 19, through Sunday, Feb. 27, at the Detroit Artillery Armory on W. Eight Mile Road.

The stars will be the 800-plus recreational vehicles on display - travel trailers, truck campers, camping trailers, motor homes.

The supporting cast will be the displays of accessories and supplies plus the information supplied by representatives of campgrounds, banks and insurance firms.

Hitches, sway controls, tow-bar kits, and tires will be among the practical trailer items shown, with the dealers on hand to tell how they work and advantages of their particular brands of equipment.

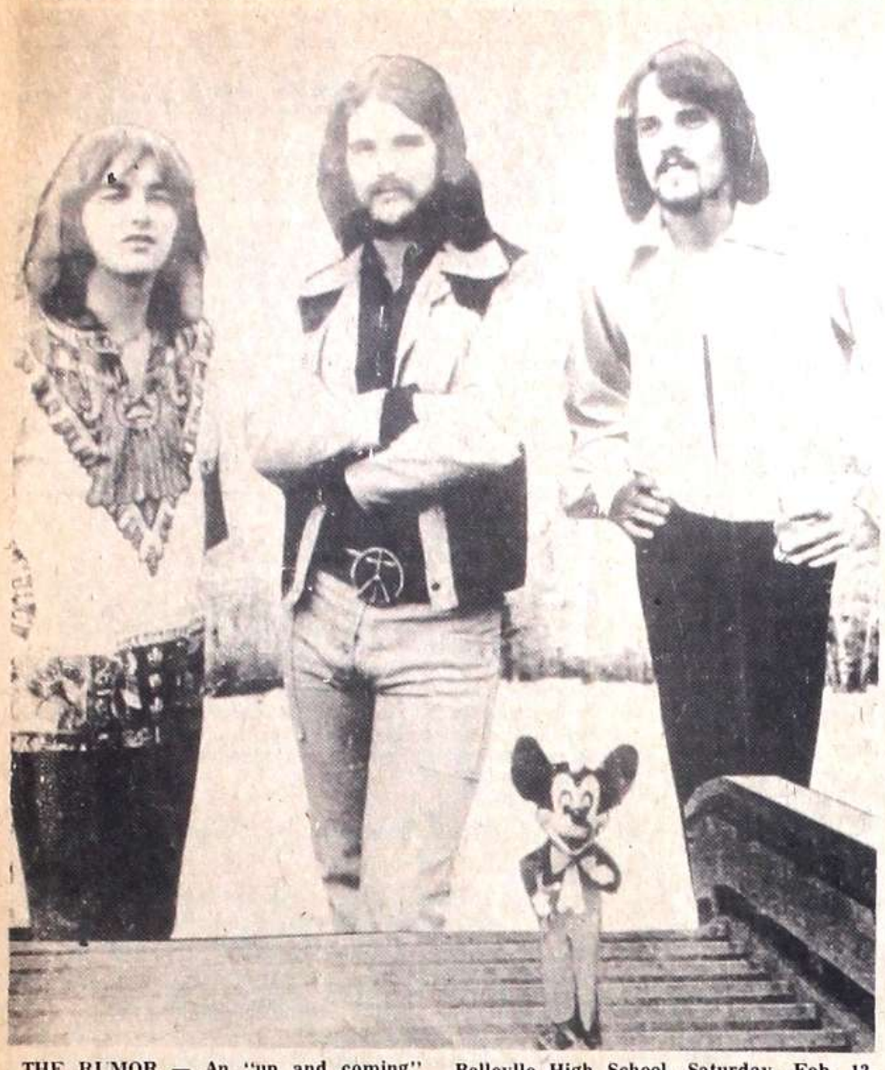

Trailer and camper bathroom accessories - showers, mirrors, toilets, medicine chests - will interest the practical minded wife. She'll also want to know about cooking on the road and in camp, and a number of camp-food brands will be shown.

Lightweight packing and hiking gear will be on display, along with such camping equipment as flashights and lanterns, stoves, sleeping bags, heaters and tents.

Jackets and other clothing, along with club emblems and novelty patches, will be seen at another display.

Private campgrounds will be represented with movies and literature stressing the facilities and advantages of each. Some of these are members of nationwide organizations with reservation systems for the touring trailerite.

So visitors to the Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show should pay some attention to the supporting cast - it's well worth seeing, according to Dan Dowsett, show director.

THE RUMOR — An "up and coming" group called The Rumor will be the featured attraction at a dance to be held at the Bellevlle High School, Saturday, Feb. 12. Dance hours are from 8 to 11 p.m.

'Rumor' appears at dance

"Right On with the Rumor" is the name of the dance being held on Saturday, Feb. 12.

Belleville High School will be the scene and the time will be from 8 to 11 p.m.

The Mothers Auxiliary will furnish free pop. Tickets will be available at the door only (no advance ticket sales) for $2.50 a person.

The Rumor is an "up and coming" group preparing to cut their first record in Detroit.

Known throughout this area, the group has participated in several band contests and played for many teen groups. All area high school and junior high school teens are urged to attend.

Mrs. George Simons, president of the auxiliary has announced her dance committee. Mrs. Jane Light is chairman assisted by Elbert Johnson.

Members of the committee and the auxiliary will help with publicity, refreshments and the mechanics of such an event.

Commissioners attack federal government

A few Wayne County commissioners struck out Thursday against what they feel is the dictating hands of the court system and federal government, but the action will do little to resolve the county's crucial financial situation.

The Board of Commissioners yesterday was asked to approve a $26,140 expenditure for the Recorder's Court employes who had worked over the Christmas holidays and on the birthdays of Martin Luther King and Abraham Lincoln.

But, as one commissioner noted, the board already has been informed money will run out before the year is over and the extra money had not been appropriated in the budget.

The requested appropriation, ultimately approved, brought outcries from several commissioners who charged the courts were demanding more and more rights and causing the public expenses to keep on rising.

As Commissioner Phil Silver (D-11th District) said, if the courts continue to demand more rights to legislate funds, then perhaps they should oversee the taxing and budgeting duties.

Commissioner John Lesinski (D-20th District), who represents part of Inkster, said he felt the courts were overstepping their boundaries and the board has "got to stop this once and for all."

The county board already has run into trouble financially due to the dictates of the courts in ordering improvements to the Wayne County Jail, among other things.

The commissioners again voiced their discontent, this time with the federal government, after being asked to approve the submission of grant applications totalling more than $300 000

The grants, also approved, were for three projects: one to establish a more effective method of utilizing personnel by establishing a comprehensive automated information system in the prosecutor's office, another to study the efficiency of the Prosecutor's office, and a third to establish an aerial patrol for the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

According to Commissioner John J. M.Cann (D-26th District) who represents Canton Township, "I can't think of three more ludicrous plans."

McCann charged the county prosecutor should already be doing the things the grants asked for and said if he wasn't, then "we're paying him too much."

He and Commissioner John N. Sabo (D-24th Dist.) , representing part of Westland and all of Wayne, voted against the grant applications.

Commissioner Silver decried the fact that the county is getting $20 million in federal crime omnibus grants and every penny is designated for a particular project.

"Why don't they ask us where we want the money to go," he asked, charging the government was wasting the public's money by not letting the local governments decide where the funds best could be used.

The sheriff's department was authorized to apply for the grant for an aerial patrol and a spokesman for the department told the board three officers already familiar with flying would be used for the project. Upon questioning he also assured them the department would not ask for additional personnel to compensate for the men who would be flying instead of riding in patrol cars.

It is hoped the plan will reduce crime by increasing the risk and reducing the opportunity to commit crime.

In other action, the board approved a resolution to implement raises for Wayne County employes which are not in violaton of the 5½ per cent guidelines and to apply to the National Pay Board for exemption where other increase were found to be in violation.

The Internal Revenue Service this week ruled that salary increase okayed by the board for Wayne County Common Pleas and Probate Court judges, along with eight other elected county officials, violated federal wage-price guidelines.

Ford employes double assets

The 43,618 salaried employes who contributed $40,340,000 to Ford Motor Co.'s Savings and Stock Investment Plan for Salaried Employes in 1968 had assets in their accounts in the 1968 Class with a total market value of $94,896,000 at the end of 1971.

The 25,041 employes who elected to have assets in the matured class distributed to them this month received $52,122,000 of the total in Ford Common Stock, U.S. Government bonds and cash.

Included were 727,463 shares of stock valued at $51,104,000, government bonds worth $998,000 and $20,000 in cash. This amounts to $2.34 for each dollar originally contributed by the members in 1968. Approximately 4,600 of these employes became Ford stockholders for the first time.

An additional 18,577 employes elected to leave assets valued at $42,774,000 with the trustee, Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit.

The total assets of $94,896,000 resulted from contributions of $40,340,000 by employes and $20,170,000 by the company, plus dividends on stock, interest on government bonds and appreciation in value of stock, based on the closing market price on Dec. 31, 1971.

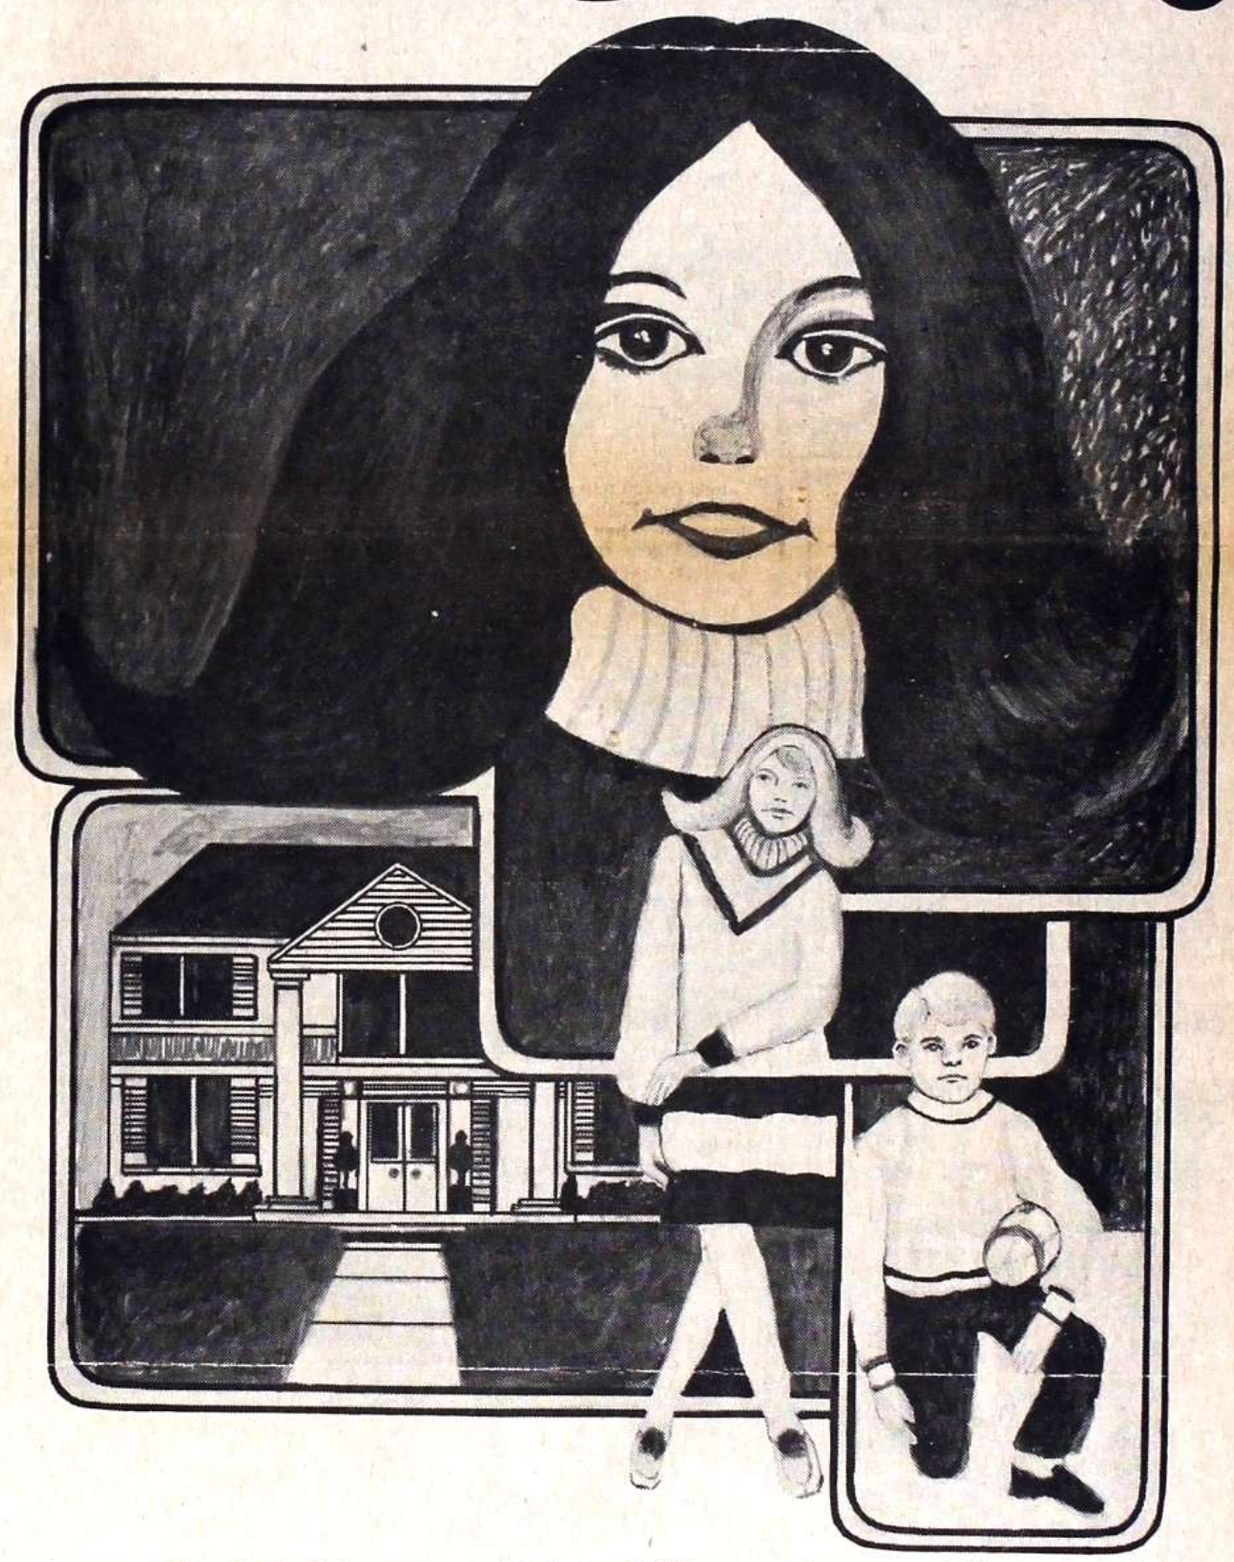

Hospital designated

The Romulus City Council has designated Annapolis Hospital in Wayne as the city's emergency medical facility for city employes.

Councilman James C. Stewart made the motion calling for council's approval on designating Annapolis Hospital as the employes' emergency medical facility.

He was supported by Councilman Ellis T. Pennington. The council unanimously approved the motion.

Mr. and Mrs. William Graham Sr. of Liberty St., entertained at a family dinner on Sunday, January 30, in celebration of the birthdays in January. Those honored were their daughter, Elaine Stabnau, and her two daughters, Sheila and Suzanne, and William Graham Jr. of Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards left Wednesday night for their home at Zanesville, Ohio, after Mr. Edwards was released from the University of Michigan Medical Center where he had been a patient for about three weeks.

Mrs. Edwards has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Baker of Liberty St. while her husband had been in the hospital.

On Thursday of last week Mrs. William Pierce of Flint and Mrs. Ronald Hoard of Millington were luncheon guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Lloyd Orr, of Harmony Lane.

Week-end guests at the Guy Ransom home on W. Huron River Dr. were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ranson of Bensenville and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Diebel, of Northlake, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Demske of Dearborn and Mrs. Joseph Spring of Liberty St. were callers on Thursday of last week on Mr. and Mrs. Karl Geiger of Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Robinson of Bristol, Virginia, have been spending some time with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hall, of Borgman St., having been called here by the serious illness of their son, George Robinson, of W. Columbia Ave.

Members of Belleville Chapter, O.E.S., who attended a dinner and reception at Wyandotte Chapter for Mary Martin, Grand Marshal of the Grand Chapter of Michigan, on Friday evening of last week were Rose Ann Welt, Worthy Matron; Eva Lupher, Chaplain; Elda Bohl, Marshal; and Juanita Akers, Flag Bearer. The Grand Officers exemplified the degrees of the Order.

Mrs. Loraine McMullan and children of Dearborn and Mrs. Henry McMullan of Denton Rd. were callers on Sunday afternoon on the Keith McMullan family of Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kirchner Sr. the latter's mother Mrs. Alma Ard, and Mrs. Hazel Schaal enjoyed dinner at Joe Muir's in Detroit on Wednesday, February 2, in celebration of Mrs. Ard's birthday.

Mrs. Lillian Moore, formerly of Charlevoix, is spending some time with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Saunders, of Liberty St.

Joan Baker sets August altar date

MISS BAKER

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker of 139 Clarence Street, Belleville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Elizabeth, to Thomas Vicary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Vicary, Jr. of 4840 Meridian Road, Leslie.

The bride-elect, who is making plans for an August 19 wedding, is a 1968 alumna of Belleville High School. A December, 1971 graduate of Central Michigan University, where she earned her teaching certificate, Miss Baker is presently doing substitute work.

Her finance, also a graduate of Central Michigan University, plans to attend law school in the fall.

Huron Valley Council selects Scout delegates

The Southern Wayne Association of the Huron Valley Girl Scouts meet Tuesday, Feb. 1, at Romulus High School. Topics of discussion were: Advance cookie sale orders starting Feb. 18-March 5; registration which is now in progress; and plans for the Area Spring Encampment which will be June 16-18 at Camp Linden.

Delegates were elected to the annual Huron Valley Council meeting March 14. All members are invited to attend but only delegates have voting power. Belleville delegates are: Mrs. Harold Innes and Mrs. Gary Wilkinson. Delegate-in-case-of vacancy is Mrs. John Thompson.

Romulus Delegates are: Mrs. Horace Stevens, and Mrs. Horace Streety. Delegate in case-of vacancy is Mrs. Robert Pressler.

New Boston Delegates are: Mrs. Max Voss and Mrs. C. Bannas. Delegate in case-of vacancy is Mrs. Mynhart Harcas.

Election of three people to the association nominating committee was held also. Committee members serve a term of three years. New members and Mrs. Robert Rabideau, Mrs. Charles Taylor, Jorgensen and Mrs. William Ward.

The meeting closed with the Association members honoring Dorothy Simons, who has been the Association Chairman for three and one half years. She received a bronze Girl Scout Statue and a certificate of appreciation from the Council. Dorthy is retiring from the chairmanship.

The next Association meeting will be announced in April. Any adults interested in Girl Scouts are invited to attend.

Stock non-foods

The typical American supermarket in 1971 stocked 8,500 items, but 38 per cent were non-foods ranging from hair spray to rawhide bones for dogs.

Caryl O. Lavery is winter bride

Family members and close friends of the families witnessed the wedding of Caryl Olivia Lavery and Charles O. Mills, which took place Saturday at the Wayne home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lavery of Stellwagen St.

The Rev. Donald Doolin of the Free Will Baptist Church in Walled Lake, officiated the double ring ceremony in a setting decorated with arrangements of white gladiolas and chrysanthemums.

For the informal ceremony, the bride wore a street-length dress in pale pink, made with a bodice of chiffon featuring a lace collar and cuffs, and a skirt of linen in the same shade. She completed her outfit with matching accessories and carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

Mrs. Frederick Fox of Hudson, Mich., atended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a princess-style, street-length dress in pale blue, matching accessories, and held a nosegay of pink miniature carnations.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mills of Cogswell Rd., Romulus, asked his cousin, Larry Reed, to serve as his best man.

Sixty guests attended the ome reception following the ceremony, Mrs. Edward Belvitch of Wayne, cut the wedding cake, and Miss Nancy Fox of Hudson, was in charge of the guest book.

After a short honeymoon in Michigan, the new Mr. and Mrs. Mills will make their home at Westpointe Manor Mobile Home Park, Wayne.

Belleville Chapter 1135 don't forget Green Cap Day for Elsie Parry. Ladies, this is a big occasion. February 12 is the date and the time is 6 p.m. for registration and 7 p.m. for the program. We are expecting guests, very special guests, so let's make Elsie proud and turn up in droves.

There will be a special enrollment during the program. After, there will be a lunch and then dancing to the music of "The Fabulous P.T.'s." Wear your prettiest formal. See you then!

Now, another big, big day is Sunday, March 5... Chapter Rally Day. Registration is at 12 p.m. and the program starts at 1:30 sharp. We will have visiting dignataries and some more surprizes. Tell you more next week.

I would like to make a correction on the date of the Academy of Friendship Meeting. It is February 9 at Lila Wilson's. Please note and change your calendar accordingly.

The Card Party is February 15. There will be Hi-Lo prizes, door prizes and a lunch.

Evelyn Celski and Agnes Wood are both at Beyer Hospital. Letters and cards will certainly help to cheer them up. Take some time to let them know you are thinking of them and wish them well.

Valentine goody-- berry cheesecake

Glistening with jewel-like strawberries, promising creamy smooth texture, long-lasting cheese flavor -- what could it be? A cheesecake, naturally. But never before has there been such a cheesecake! This one, easy to make with Jell-O Cheesecake, would be a super-glamorous dessert for a Valentine's Day -- the color is so pretty.

Since the mix itself is so easy to prepare, it can be the perfect spur-of-the-moment dessert -- it's ready to serve after chilling for 1 hour. Here's how it's done: Take the contents of the crust mix pouch and blend it with sugar and butter or margarine; press over the bottom and sides of an 8-inch pie pan; chill for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, blend the filling mix with cold milk and beat until thick. Pour the mixture into the chilled crust and chill an additional hour.

For the Strawberry Party Cheesecake with its superb glaze of strawberries, you use two packages of the unbaked cheesecake to fill a 9-inch spring-form pan. For the glaze, just cover the top with fresh strawberries (or blueberries) and brush on melted currant jelly to glaze.

Strawberries and cheesecake combine in another way in delicious Jellied Strawberry Cheesecake. Here the strawberries are in a layer of strawberry flavor gelatin, and are topped with the cheesecake, making a distinctive layered dessert that would be an excellent choice for a contribution to a potluck supper.

Jellied Strawberry Cheesecake

1 package (10-¾ oz.) unbaked cheesecake
1 pint (about) strawberries, halved
1 package (3 oz.) strawberry flavor gelatin
¼ cup sugar
1 cup boiling water
½ tray ice cubes (7 to 10, depending on size)

Prepare cheesecake as directed on package, using a 9-inch square pan and pressing crumb mixture only over bottom of pan. Arrange strawberries in a single layer over cheesecake. Dissolve gelatin and sugar in boiling water. Add ice cubes; stir until gelatin is slightly thickened. Remove any unmelted ice. Spoon gelatin over strawberries. Chill until firm--about 1½ hours. Makes 9 to 12 servings.

Alternate Baking Pans: This cheesecake may also be prepared in a 9-inch spring-form pan or a 9-inch glass layer pan.

Strawberry Party Cheesecake

2 packages (10-¾ oz. each) unbaked cheesecake
6 tablespoons sugar
½ cup butter or margarine, melted or softened
3 cups milk
1 pint fresh strawberries, halved
½ cup currant jelly, melted and cooled

To make crust, combine contents of both pouches of crust, the sugar, and butter. Mix well. Press on bottom and halfway up sides of 9-inch spring-form pan. Chill 15 minutes before filling. Or bake at 375 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes; then chill before filling.

To make the filling, measure milk into bowl. Add contents of both filling mix pouches. Beat as directed on package. Pour into prepared crust. Cover top with strawberries; then brush berries with jelly. Chill at least 2 hours. Makes 12 servings.

Blueberry Party Cheesecake. Prepare Strawberry Party Cheesecake as directed, substituting 1 pint fresh blueberries for the strawberries.

Area foursome completes PN program

Graduation certificates were presented to 54 students completing the Ann Arbor Public Schools one-year Practical Nurse Education Program in the Jones School Auditorium in Ann Arbor Thursday, January 27. A new group of 60 students will be entering the program and 58 presently enrolled students be started the Clinical phase of the program January 31.

The program affiliates with St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor; Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti; Annapolis Hospital in Wayne; Wyandotte General Hospital in Wyandotte; and the Emma L. Bixby Hospital in Adrian.

Students graduating from the program were Mrs. Bonnie S. Hinman, 10464 Borgman, Belleville; Mrs. Juanita Jefferson, 6077 Washington, Romulus; Mrs. E. Gay Morris, 43255 Bemis Rd., Belleville; and Mrs. Katherine N. Potere, 3375 Herbey, Belleville.

Dents welcome a new daughter, Patricia Denise

"And baby makes three" might just be the tune that's hummed around the Paul Dent household on Goddard Road, Romulus, these mid-winter days.

There's a new addition to their family, a baby daughter, Patricia Denise, who was born January 28 at Riverside Osteopathic Hospital, Trenton.

The 9 lb. - 6 oz. infant is the couple's first child. Mrs. Martha Dent of Romulus is the baby's grandmother.

MISS WHITTAKER

Airport senior engaged

Brenda Y. Whittaker, a senior at Airport High School, Carleton, is engaged to Michael A. Davis, a freshman at Monroe Community College. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Whittaker of 26995 Martinsville Road, New Boston, announce their betrothal.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis of 712 Adams Street, Monroe, the prospective bridegroom is employed at Ken's Parts and Equipment in Monroe.

No date has been set for the wedding.

A reminder...

The Belleville Enterprise-Romulus Roman offices are now located in the 'heart of town'—in the old Township Hall Building at 405 Main St. We're in the front half of the brick structure from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

This little reminder is prompted by the many calls from patrons who've forgotten or just weren't aware that we're no longer at 330 Main.

Come in and see us.

Gail Young is bride

Newly wed Sobeckis living in Flat Rock

Two clergymen presided at the double ring ceremony which united Gail Young and Richard Sobecki in holy matrimony January 28. The seven o'clock nuptials were read by the Rev. Keith Chappell and the Rev. Charles Borowski at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Belleville.

Robert Morris served as organist at the wedding with Mary Pat Rose the soloist.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Young of 25935 Carleton West Road, New Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sobecki, Sr. of 45065 Bemis Road, Belleville, are parents of the young couple.

ESCORTED UP the aisle by her father, Gail was gowned traditional white satin, the lines of the gown from neck to hem accented with tiny daisies of Venice lace. The little fitted bodice was designed with a high neckline and long, fitted sleeves edged with matching lace. Adding back interest was a long, tubular train which cascaded from a bow attached to the empire waistline.

Completing her bridal finery were a cathedral-length veil of silk illusion secured by a Camelot headpiece in matching Venice lace and a cascade bouquet of miniature yellow carnations and roses.

Cheryl Young was her sister's maid of honor and Gary Hotchkiss served as best man.

Kay Vandecar, Cindy Sobecki, Sharyn Sturtz, Wendy McKnight, and Rita Chiaravaili as bridesmaids were identically dressed in gold, floor-length gowns of crushed velvet and mirra mist. Tiny covered buttons centered the front of the velvet bodices which were styled with long bishop sleeves cuffed in matching velvet. Velvet ribbon traced the high-rise waistlines and formed bows at the back.

Little caps of gold crushed velvet, edged with three-tiered veils, formed their headgear. All attendants carried black hurricane lanterns holding white lighted candles. Miniature yellow carnations and roses were used to adorn the lamps.

Little Angela Richardson was dressed as a miniature bride with Kenny Marlett taking the part of the miniature bridegroom.

In a junior version of the senior attendants' ensembles, Angela Richardson carried out the role of flowergirl.

Groomsmen included Mike Melton, James Bies, Bill Santner, Claude McKnight, and Frank Sobecki, Jr.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the Carrawee Hall in Flat Rock where the newlyweds are now making their home.

The new Mrs. Sobecki graduated from Airport High School in 1969 and from Eastern Michigan University's secretarial school in 1971. She is now employed at Milan Federal Correctional Institution in Milan. Her husband is a 1965 alumnus of Belleville High who graduated from Eastern Michigan University in 1970. He is an employe of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

MRS. RICHARD SOBECKI

Pullen's son, daughter plan future weddings

Mr. and Mrs. S.K. Pullen of 14285 Elwell Road, Belleville, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Kay, to Carl David Marlowe of Belleville.

MISS PULLEN

Both young people are graduates of Belleville High School, the bride-elect having earned her diploma in 1971 and her fiance in 1967. Miss Pullen is presently employed by the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

Former Bellevillites, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Marlowe of Speedwell, Tennessee, are the parents of the prospective bridegroom who served two years with the U.S. Army and is now attending Wayne County Community College. He is also employed by the Ford Motor Company in Ypsilanti.

No date has been set for the wedding.

MISS WIMMER

From Portland, Missouri comes announcement of the engagement of A-1c Shirley Ann Wimmer and Sergeant Jack P. Pullen, both serving with the U.S. Air Force at Kincheloe Air Base in Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wimmer are parents of the bride-elect who is a 1970 graduate of South Callaway High School in Portland. She is employed as a medic at the Kinchelo Base Hospital.

Sergeant Pullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. S.K. Pullen of 14285 Elwell Road, Belleville, is a 1967 alumnus of Belleville High School. He, too, works at the Base Hospital as a medical supply technician.

A date for the wedding has not been set.

Compare meat costs, protein value

The 60 grams of protein you need in your daily diet can be low, moderate or high cost.

"It depends on the cuts of meat you buy and the other protein sources you use," says Anita Dean, extension foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University. Egsgs, milk products, cheese, fish, polutry, nuts and legumes are protein - suppliers, besides a wide variety of meat products.

All meats have about the same protein value, she says. Three ounces of any cooked, lean meat supply about 21 grams of protein.

"Let's concentrate on the relative cost and protein value of different meat cuts," Mrs. Dean suggests.

With so much high-protein meat available to most Americans, the choice often becomes one of economy: Which foods offer the best nutritive value at the lowest cost?

Although the same in protein value, you know that hamburger and sirloin are different. One difference is cost. Hamburger at 66 cents per pound costs 17 cents per cooked, three-ounce serving; but bone-in sirloin at $1.70 a pound costs 72 cents a serving.

The cut with the lowest price per pound isn't always the best buy in terms of food value or edible meat, the specialist says. A relatively expensive, boneless cut with little fat may be a better buy than a cheaper cut with a lot of bone, fat and gristle.

One way to look at meat costs, Mrs. Dean explains, is to estimate the number of servings any one cut will yield. Then, divide this number into the total cost of the cut to get the cost per serving from that cut.

For example, if a four-pound chuck roast costs $5.64, and you estimate 12 servings, your cost per serving is 47 cents.

It isn't easy to estimate the amount of meat your family will need - the pounds of pork roast, the size of chicken, the number and thickness of chops and steaks. A simple guide is to estimate that a pound of meat with little or no fat or bone will yield three to four servings of cooked meat; a pound with a medium amount of bone yields two to three servings of cooked meat; and a pound of meat with much bone, gristle and fat gives one to two servings.

"With experience," says Mrs. Dean, "a homemaker can quickly estimate how far a given cut of meat will go, and how much each serving will cost."

For Easter Seal campaign

County support requested

The 1972 Wayne County Easter Seal Society appeal for $190,000 to continue aid to physically and mentally handicapped children and adults was announced by Earl Morrall, chairman.

Morrall, star quarterback of the Baltimore Colts, will play an active part in the fund drive, which will run for eight weeks from Feb. 1 to Easter Sunday, April 2.

"We are hoping," said Morrall, "that the generous people of Wayne County will give the society the needed money and also use Easter Seals so that programs so worthwhile to the physical, mental, and social well-being of the handicapped can not only be continued but perhaps increased as well.

"The society provides a wide variety of services for handicapped adults and children. For example, boys and girls unable to fit into the community day or residential camps are served in the society's own summer day camp. Year-round classes and clubs are maintained for teenagers and for adults. When necessary, the society also underwrites the costs of therapy and purchases special equipment, such as wheelchairs. It also finds community services already available to the handicapped and lends financial support to the campaign for the detection of sickle cell anemia."

Morrall explained that the Easter Seal Society gets no financial help from government or community funds.

"That's why the generosity of individuals and organizations and their continued use of Easter Seals on letters and packages has enabled the society to accomplish so much among the handicapped," he said.

The campaign gets under way with the mailing of 200,000 letters to Wayne County residents making a direct appeal to help the society.

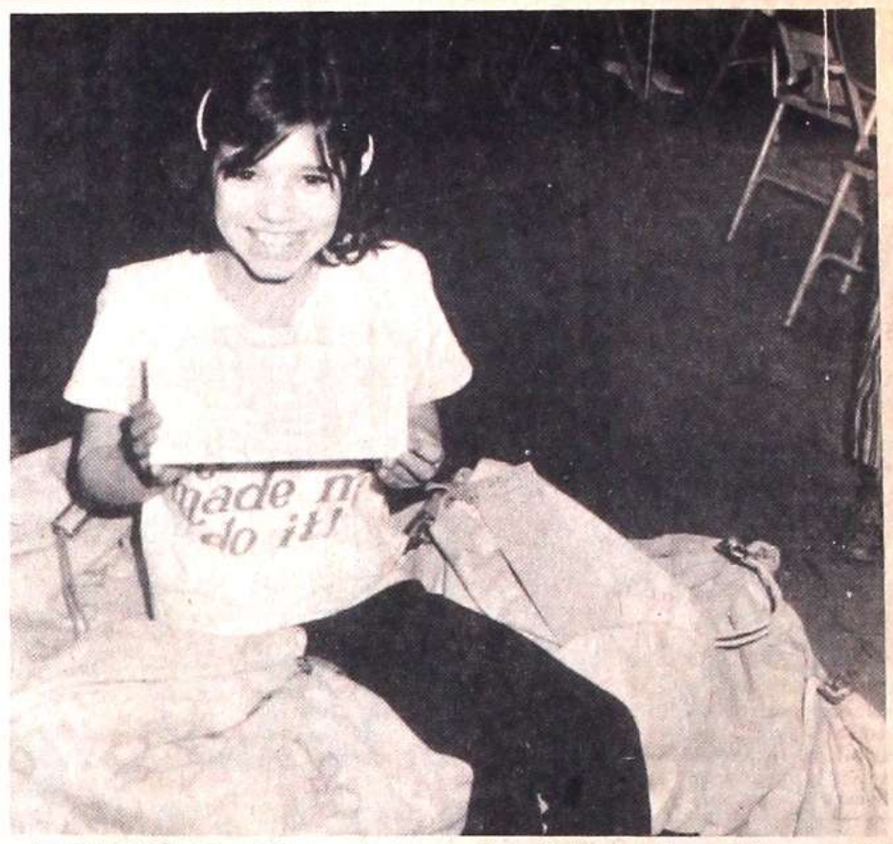

Those receiving this letter will notice a change in the name of the organization. It is now the Wayne County Easter Seal Society, rather than the Western Wayne County Easter Seal Society. The society now includes all of Wayne County.

In certain designated areas a new method of fund raising called "Neighbor to Neighbor" will be tried for the first time in Michigan.

Ten-thousand Neighbor-to-Neighbor kits, which contain Easter Seal fact sheets and contributor envelopes will be mailed to block chairmen. After receiving the kits, the chairmen will make the first contribution and pass the kit to their next-door neighbor. Eventually, the kits will reach all the homes on the blocks before returning to the chairmen. In this way there is no house-to-house convassing.

Morrall asked for volunteers to work in the campaign. They are needed for clerical work, specific fund raising projects and other duties. Volunteers are asked to call PA 2-3055.

The Wayne County Easter Seal Society, headquartered in Inkster, is one of 1,100 affiliates of the National Society, which last year provided services for almost 400,000 crippled children and adults.

APPEAL LETTERS — Volunteers to help crippled children come in all shapes and sizes! Rosemary Kahl, 9, of Dearborn Heights, sits atop a small mountain of mail bags containing Easter Seal Appeal letters which are being mailed to 200,000 households throughout Wayne County. The envelopes, which also contain a sheet of the traditional Easter Seals, are being mailed as part of the Wayne County Easter Seal Society's annual fund-raising campaign, which runs for eight weeks and concludes Easter Sunday, April 2. The society has set a goal of $190,000 to maintain and expand programs to assist handicapped children and adults throughout the county.

Huron scout council gets second Ford grant for camp

Mrs. James A. Kennedy, president of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, has announced the council received a pledge from Ford Motor Co., Ypsilanti and Rawsonville plants, of $10,000 to be paid to the Girl Scout Camp Development Fund in December, 1972.

This raises the total Ford contribution to $20,000 with the first payment having been received by the scouts last December.

"We're so pleased to learn of this additional gift," Mrs. Kennedy said, "because there are so many developments needed at Camp Linden, not only for buildings but for beach work, reforestation and other improvements to the site."

She cited the growth of membership in Girl Scouting over the past year as one of the reasons for urgency in providing the needed camp facilities. "Junior high membership increased over 13 per cent in one year," she said. "These girls are drawn to Girl Scouting partly out of an interest in camping."

The Ford Motor Co. gift boosts the total raised or pledged in the Girl Scout Camp Development Fund drive to just over $452,000. The original goal for the drive was $600,000.

Investigation begun on taps

The Sumpter Township Board has ordered an investigation into all applications for water taps.

The board ordered the investigation following a report by James M. Lambert, recently appointed field superintendent of the township's water department, who reported that three township residents have received water service, one since July, 1969, and have never been billed for it.

Five other residents paid water tap charges in full in 1969 and have never received water service.

In addition, Lambert reported, another five customers paid part of their water tap costs but the township records failed to show if the balances were paid, the down payment refunded or if the water service is being received.

Trustee Richard Krajewski called for a complete investigation into water tap applications. He was supported by Trustee Virgil Humphreys and the board agreed.

Says Romulus report

Building climbs in '71

Building in the City of Romulus continued an upward climb in 1971 reported Clayton W. Meldrum, chief building inspector and manager of the Romulus Building Department.

The department's annual account of building activities disclosed the total valuation of new building in the city last year amounted to $16,374,913.76 as against a total valuation of $14,500,381.86 in 1970.

The number of building permits issued in 1971 was 810, compared with 749 issued in 1970, Meldrum reported.

Fees collected by the building department last year amounted to $119,660, an increase of $13,965.96 over the 1970 total of $105,694.41.

The building fee collection for the current year is estimated at $145,000 based on further building activity in the 1972 year.

The electrical, heating and plumbing divisions of the building department all reported increase over 1970.

The electrical division collected $74,717 in permit fees, the heating division, $4,653 in fees, and the plumbing division, $6,821 in permits fees.

The department also collected more than $14,655 in miscellaneous building fees during 1971.

The 1971 activity report reflected rises in all phases of building. Meldrum sees greater strides in Romulus building for 1972 based on building programs under consideration and on the drafting boards of land developers.

In 1971 a total of 269 single-family residences were constructed, 24 industrial buildings, 27 commercial buildings and 159 garages and carports.

'America' essay contest continues through March 1

"How I Can Help America" is the theme for the fifth annual America And Me Essay Contest sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Group.

The contest, open to all Michigan eighth grade level students, began on Feb. 1 and ends March 1.

The purpose of the essay contest is to stimulate teacher - student - parent interest in America...its problems, its strengths. And, more important, it will give youngsters a chance to reflect upon their role in tomorrow's America.

Honor certificates will be awarded to the three top contestants in each school. Each participating school will be presented a permanent plaque on which the name of the first place winner from that school will be engraved.

All first place school essays will be entered in statewide competition. A trip to Mackinac Island and an Executive Flag will be awarded to the third place state winner; a Chicago weekend and Presidential Flag to the second place winner; a tour of Washington, D.C. and Presidential Flag to the top state essayist.

A Colonial Flag, Presidential Flag and Executive Flag will be presented to the schools of the first, second and third place state finalists respectively.

All three top essays will be forwarded to Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge for entry into National School Award Essay competition.

Any one of 400 Farm Bureau Insurance Group representatives operating in 52 offices throughout Michigan can be contacted for further information.

PTA council hears guidance counselor speak

The regular meeting of the Romulus Area PTA Council was held recently at Merriman Elementary School Romulus, with John Domas, junior high school counselor, as special guest speaker.

Domas outlined the training, objectives and duties of guidance counselors.

In other business the council adopted a motion of support for the school operation millage referendum scheduled for March 13. It was decided council members would work in active support of the renewal issue.

Earl Lamb, assistant principal at the high school, spoke about the Romulus Help Center and a proposed comprehensive drug treatment and education program thet would involve 18 communities in Western Wayne County. He also enlisted the PTA's help in a fund raising supporting membership drive.

Concerning the annual installation of officers banquet, scheduled this year for May 23, council delegates voted to continue the membership award and to have some form of entertainment following the dinner. Mrs. Fran Petre, council president, said the entertainment feature would depend upon whether or not a chairman can be found to organize the program.

Mrs. Gloria Chandler announced a matinee performance of "Winnie The Pooh," to be presented by the Romulus City Players on Feb. 12 and 13 at the Romulus Senior High School Auditorium. Tickets, she said, are 25 cents each and performances are scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. each day

To keep in tune with changes

New Catholic program set

John Cardinal Dearden announced a February-to-December program designed to alert 1.5 million Detroit-area Catholics to opportunities and responsibilities brought to them through a decade of church modernization.

"As we move into the seventies, it must be on a firm foundation of knowing who we are and what our mission is as the church," he said in describing the educational-motivational-action program in applied spirituality.

Titled "The Church, the World and the Kingdom: a Program of Christian Growth," the pioneering exercise in making religion pertinent in modern daily life will be kicked off Monday, Feb. 7, by the general chairman, Bishop Thomas J. Gumbleton, vicar for parishes.

During the week he will open a two-week training course for vicariate leadership teams from 24 regions of the six-county Archdiocese of Detroit Members later will help train parish leadership teams. Sessions opening April 9 will continue intermittently into December.

"This intensive effort to bring into being a modern life-style for Catholics easily could become one of the most important efforts ever made by the local church," Bishop Gumbleton said.

The object is to bring home to each individual, old as well as young, the personal consequences, in practical terms, resulting from the modernization thrust initiated by Pope John XXIII, defined by Vatican Council II in the early 1960s and localized for the Archdiocese in "Synod '69.' "

Bishop Gumbleton continued: "The program will allow all of us to put our modern faith into understandable perspective. Together we can examine traditional Catholic viewpoints and see which have their base merely in custom and culture and which are central to our faith, and therefore in need of new emphasis. With the air cleared, hopefully we can move ahead to bring a Christian dimension to the many heartland issues of our day."

Cardinal Dearden, aware the full impact of Vatican Council teachings has escaped many, has long sought a remedial program in consultations with Archdiocesan vicars and other leadership figures.

When a practical plan was ready, he personally joined the first group of priests to undertake its schedule of prayer and study. Later all Archdiocesan priests attended sessions, guided by the Rev. Father Kenneth E. Untener, Archdiocesan Associate Delegate for the Clergy.

The pioneering program then was extended to all Archdiocesan employees as details for Archdiocesan-wide participation were worked out by various church divisions under the guidance of the Rev. Father Thomas McAnoy, director of Archdiocesan educational efforts.

An indication of the direction to be taken is given by the 80-page "Synod '69" document. It declares each Catholic must try to play a role in "the shaping and rehabilitation of human society." Without condemning traditional individualistic manifestations of faith, "Synod 69" called additionally for development of a "world outlook" necessitating the commitment of resources and the involvement of the person" in programs seeking to correct local, regional, national and international problems.

The program for Vicariate leadership teams from Feb. 7-21 will be followed by a training program for parish leaders, educational coordinators, teachers and others extending from Feb. 28 through March 20.

From April 9 through May 7 each Sunday Mass sermon will keynote a specific area for group investigation, seeking means of relating the specific Gospel message to daily life. Topics will be "The Self-Identity of the Church," "God's Word - Basis of Faith," "The Church and the World," "Why Am I a Catholic?," and "Serving My Brother."

Programs of personal self-renewal will be encouraged during June, July and August but during the last two weeks of August there will be an emphasis on a reorientation of leadership toward a new life-style for parishes.

Preparations then will be made for another series of studies and discussions, from Oct. 2 through the week of Nov. 19, again centering around the theme of the Sunday Mass. Sermon topics will be "Jesus as Victor," "Jesus as the Way," "Jesus in Community," "Jesus as Unifier," "Contemporary Morality" and "Do I Need the Sacrifice of Penance?"

Parish liturgical celebrations will bring the program to an end in the first week of December.

CD simulation test set on handling disasters

The Michigan emergency plan for handling natural disasters will be tested in a simulation of a series of problems today (Wednesday) and tomorrow (Thursday) in the National Guard armory at Lansing, Col. John R. Plants, director of State Police and Michigan civil defense, reported.

Capt. George Halverson, commander of the State Police emergency services division and deputy state CD director, said the exercise will principally involve the state agencies responsible for assistance in and recovery from natural disasters, such as weather storms, floods, fires, epidemics, etc.

He said the key is to test the ability of state government resources to respond in an assistance role to local government during a disaster.

The state-level participants will include the 19 agencies and representation from the governor's office. Observers and liaison officials are expected to include federal and other governmental civic and industrial personnel who would be involved in implementation of the plan in such state disasters.

The Michigan emergency plan was revised and updated several years ago. This is reported to be the first time a natural disaster recovery plan is being tested in Michigan on the state level. Captain Halverson said the exercise should serve to point up any need for additional updating of its capabilities.

A "walk-through" of the plan's operations will be conducted in the Feb. 9 afternoon session in preparation for the handling of the natural disaster exercise the next morning.

CITY OF ROMULUS
ORDINANCE NO. 72-33

AN ORDINANCE TO PROHIBIT THE DISCHARGE OF CERTAIN FIREARMS WITHIN THE CITY OF ROMULUS, EXCEPT WITHIN CERTAIN PERMITTED AREAS: TO PROVIDE PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF; AND TO PROVIDE FOR THE LICENSING OF RIFLE RANGES.

WHEREAS, there exists within the City of Romulus extensive development of homes, industry and commercial districts which create congregations of people and property within a confined area; and,

WHEREAS, the City finds it necessary to regulate the discharge of certain firearms within the corporate limits of the City of Romulus in order to protect the health, safety and welfare of the inhabitants of the City.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

Section 1. No person shall, except in self-defense, discharge or cause to be discharged within the City of Romulus, any firearm capable of inflicting injury to persons, property or animals.

Section 2. For the purposes of this ordinance, the following terms shall be defined:

a. Firearm: Shall include any rifle, pistol or other explosive device, which expels a single projectile at a velocity sufficient to kill, injure or damage persons, property or animals.

b. City: Shall mean the City of Romulus.

c. Clerk: Romulus City Clerk.

d. Law Enforcement Agency: Shall mean the law enforcement agency of the City of Romulus.

Section 3. This ordinance shall not apply to a person discharging a firearm within an approved and licensed gun, skeet or trap club or within the confines of a licensed rifle range or to public exhibitions conducted in a safe area and which have received the prior written approval of the City law enforcement agency and the City Clerk or to a person discharging a firearm on property owned by him or a member of his immediate family for which he shall have received prior written approval of the Law Enforcement Agency and the City Clerk.

Section 4. No gun, rifle, skeet, trap or hunting club or practice range shall permit the discharge of any firearm or weapons, as defined herein, upon its premises without first obtaining a license therefor from the City Clerk's Office and obtaining the approval of the City Law Enforcement Agency.

Section 5. Before any license for a practice range or hunting, rifle, gun, skeet, trap or similar club shall be issued, the City Law Enforcement Agency shall inspect and thoroughly examine the premises, backstops, catch basins, targets and safety equipment of such range or club and shall make a written report of its investigation to the City Clerk.

Section 6. The City Clerk, after having received the approval of the Law Enforcement Agency shall issue a one (1) year license to the club or range seeking the license and shall require a fee of Ten ($10.00) Dollars for each club or range license issued. Each license issued under the provisions of this ordinance shall expire on the 31st day of December of the year issued and it shall be the obligation of each licensee to arrange for an annual inspection by the City Law Enforcement Agency prior to the issuance of a new license.

Said inspection and approval shall be completed prior to the renewal of a license and the City Clerk shall, upon receipt of the approval by the City Law Enforcement Agency and the payment of the Ten ($10.00) Dollar license fee, renew said license.

Section 7. The Law Enforcement Agency is authorized and directed to draft and submit to the City Council for its approval plans and standards for the operation and maintenance of said range, public exhibition or private property upon which the owner or members of his family desire to discharge firearms. Said standards shall establish the minimum requirements for the safe operation of such establishment.

Section 8. The above provisions shall not apply to police officers, employees by governmental units and shall not apply to persons licensed under Act 285 of Public Acts of Michigan of 1965, as amended, during the course of their duties or to and from their place of employment and shall not apply to police officers.

Section 9. Should any portion of this ordinance be held invalid for any reason, such holding shall not be construed as affecting the validity of any of the remaining portionsof this ordinance.

Section 10. Any person violating any provision of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not to exceed Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars or by imprisonment in the County Jail for a period of not more than ninety (90) days or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

Section 11. This Ordinance shall become effective thirty (30) days after publication.

Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk
City of Romulus

Within forty five (45) days after the publication of any ordinance duly passed by the Council, a petition may be presented to the Council protesting against such ordinance continuing in effect. Said petition shall contain the text of such ordinance and shall be signed by not less than six (6 per cent) percent of the registered electors registered at the last preceding election at which a Mayor of the City was elected. Said ordinance shall thereupon and thereby be suspended from operation and the Council shall reconsider such ordinance.

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance adopted by the Romulus City Council at their Special Meeting held January 27, 1972

CARROLL RIGHTER'S horoscope

Tomorrow's forecast from the Carroll Righter Institute

General tendencies: The early part of the day is excellent for stating your point of view and getting the goodwill and active assistance of those who are impressed by your mind and honesty, but the evening is not good for entertainment or for having any arguments at home, or for basic matters. Keep smiling.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have fine new ideas in a.m., but cannot get at the work required until after lunch, then full speed ahead. Outline plans well first. Take into consideration any possible obstacle you may have to overcome.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have certain ideas for progressing, but need to talk them over with others you feel may have better ideas to offer. You may be able to combine the best of each. Willingness to please mate can create a far better relationship between you.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) You have better understanding with associates and can get projects going smoothly together. If you have recently had a reconciliation with another, do nothing to spoil this now. Show you are steady, dependable.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) Get busy clearing up accumulated work so you have more time for discussions with partners. You know better what should be done of a public nature. Go ahead then and perform cleverly.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) During the morning you find your ideas are clarified and later you can get busy and do the work necessary on them. Important you tell mate how deeply devoted you are. Then do something tangible to prove it.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get busy clearing up work ahead of you during the day whether at home or at business so you can go out for social pleasure in p.m. Plan more time for the things you really like to do. Happiness can be yours now.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Plan some time to make the situation at home much better, conditions more ideal. An idea you get in a.m. requires more study before it can be put in operation successfully. Do that tonight.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can study those financial affairs well in a.m. so that associates can help you with them quickly in p.m. Get those statements out, too. Pay bills without further delay.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can come to the right decisions where personal affairs are concerned in a.m., then do the practical work required later. Come to an excellent agreement with others first. Avoid those who bicker.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Improve your health through right treatments early and plan the future while so doing. Then off to the appointments, work that is vital. The advice of an expert can be helpful. Attend that nice party in p.m.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Some good friend has the right ideas that will make it possible for you to gain the personal aims you want, so follow them. Participating in social service work is fine. Steer clear of persons who have nothing to do and waste your valuable time.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Listening to what an important person has to say can be most helpful to you in a.m. Gain the cooperation careerwise of persons who like you. Become part of a worthwhile social group in p.m.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those young people who likes to jump from one thing to another early in life, drop one person to go to another, but take this in your stride, since it is only a growing period. Upon reaching his or her majority, this youngster will find the right outlets, persons and stick to them like glue, thereby making a fine success for the rest of the lifetime. The mind is filled with interesting and practical ideas. Inventiveness is great here

Standard jig saw-- favorite with hobbyists

One of the easiest power tools to operate is the standard jig saw, which can do inside, outside and straight cutting. Because it can handle the most intricate of designs, it is a special favorite with hobbyists who perform delicate tasks.

An outgrowth of this time-tested electric machine is the portable jig saw, sometimes called a saber or bayonet saw. Unlike the regular jig saw, which is stationary, the portable model, as the name makes evident, can be brought to material which is anchored to something else.

The many kinds of blades available enable the tool to be used for cutting wood, felt, leather, rubber, plastics, insulating materials, composition boards, linoleum, resilient floor tiles and both ferrous and nonferrous metals. Different brands have different methods of attaching the blades. While these differences appear to be slight, it is important that each manufacturer's instructions be followed to the letter so that the blade will be held firmly in the machine.

To start a cut, the portable jig saw's forward edge is placed on the stock, the motor started and the blade moved forward. The forward pressure should not be excessive—just enough to permit the blade to do its work. There must also be a slight downward pressure to keep the base riding smoothly on the material. This downward pressure is more necessary on some machines than on others, but you will soon discover exactly how much, if any, pressure to apply to your jig saw to halt any tendency to vibrate.

Like the table jig saw, the portable model can follow either a curved or straight line, although the cut itself won't be as fine. But the tool is light enough so that, when used properly, it will produce a smooth result. Since the saw has no frame or other hampering parts, it can be used to cut stock of any length or width.

Because it can be used in a confined area, the portable jig saw has the ability to do many jobs which previously required much time and effort. It is especially good for making notches in floor joists, wall studs, rafters and other construction materials.

When an opening must be cut into plywood or wall paneling— as, for instance, to make room for an electric outlet—it can be done without drilling a hole for the saw blade. This is done by holding the machine firmly with both hands and tilting it forward so that the front edge of the base rests on the wood, but without the motor in operation. When this has been accomplished, the motor is started and permitted to run at full speed. The back of the machine is lowered gently, which will bring the blade into contact with the work. The back is lowered even more until the blade has dug into the wood and the base is flat on the surface. Only then is the saw guided along the cutting line.

As in all sawing operations, be sure to cut along the outside edges of the cutting line to allow for the width of the blade.

Women are having their say in decorating boat interiors

This year's boat show in New York provided a riot of color that seemed to take its cues from home fashions. Popular lime, yellow, bristol blue, burgandy, and the beige-y wood tones from sand to tobacco colors have gone to boat hulls. And in the big cruiser class is red, white and blue to the boot stripe, at least.

"The patriotic theme can't be overdone right now. It is not only a presidential year, but people seem to have a new appreciation of their country. They are taking another look. It is something young people started with the environmental bit," says Mary Reed, styling coordinator for Hattaras.

The interior of the 42-foot cruiser she had decorated was red, white and blue all the way. In the salon area, upholstery was blue, table white, and linen draperies were done in a contemporary pattern of the three colors.

Mrs. Reed's newest fait accompli, the Mandarin look, will be unveiled at the Miami show.

While interiors of boats are influencing colors that also go to hulls, and as one man put it, "you can't buy a boat until your wife approves it," teenagers are also having their say. One 16-year-old boy determined the entire color scheme for a boat his mother was buying, "and did a great job," Mrs. Reed explained. Dad had already decided on the electronics and the decoration had been left to mother, who just wasn't apt in that direction.

The emphasis on interior boat decoration started out as a theme to "let women have their say, too". But the idea is evolving into a boat fashion competition with companies outzinging each other in decor. More than one boat has been sold because the interiors superseded all other considerations.

The 43-foot cruiser in the Mandarin style has fabrics that are exact reproductions of old Mandarin color combinations— muted orange, apricot and hyacinth-blue with an accent of gold. There are Chinese lamps and Chinese Chippendale chairs and orientally-inspired campaign chests, Mrs. Reed points out.

"We will have a swing to Oriental things in everything and the captain's wife who has the latest fashion in her home and wardrobe will want to continue her fashion prowess at sea."

More women enjoy boating today and that may be one reason "seasickness seems to have died out," Mrs. Reed comments. It is seldom mentioned any more, and "it may have been psychological. Mal de mer probably set in because of ennui—nothing to do aboard but count waves. Now there is hi-fi, television and a dreamy galley with a house-size dishwasher, French door refrigerator and a four-surface cook center with built-in ventiliation. Boats are air-conditioned and more comfortable than ever before. In short, the second home is likely to have more comforts than home.

It is usually difficult to find a good spot for airconditioning on a boat, but Mrs. Reed now buries it in the upholstery at the rear arm of a sofa, and other non-irritating areas.

When people choose special color schemes, the men go for blue, the women gold, especially gold and white in the new crisp tones. Their teen-agers are always pushing for more color. The girls like great big romantic floral patterns and shaggy carpet.

"Personality plays a large part in the choices," says Mrs. Reed. "The fisherman is interested in utility and the tailored decor. The second-home owner wants comfort and whatever lends to cruising advantages and—as one woman put it, 'this has got to be my floating condominum'. The real yachtman is practical about the whole thing and he wants nothing superficial."

Floor tile used on shelves, walls

If you're going to redecorate and are looking for "something different," try covering shelves and part of the wall with the same tile used on your floors.

Tying in the floor pattern with other areas is a simple but very effective decorating device. It works well in youngsters' bedrooms, recreation rooms, in the attic, in a hall or near an entranceway. It can also be done in kitchens, baths and laundries on counters where moisture is not excessive.

These are all areas where easy maintenance is important and nothing is easier to maintain than resilient floorings, especially vinyl asbestos tile. It stands up well under the roughest kind of use and is wiped clean in seconds. Scratches can be rubbed away with fine steel wool.

To be absolutely certain tile will adhere properly in the vertical position on a wall, the Better Floors Council recommends using regular vinyl asbestos tile affixed with an adhesive approved by the tile manufacturer -- cove base adhesive is usually suggested.

The adhesive-backed vinyl asbestos tile is ideal for use on shelves, and some manufacturers okay its use on walls too. It is easy to handle -- all you do is peel a paper from the back of the tile and press in place -- and it can be cut to fit with an ordinary scissors. Standard edging trim may be used if desired.

Wood loss huge

Enough timber is lost to insects, disease, old age, wind and fire in western forests every year to build nearly one million homes, forestry officials estimate. Half of this doomed timber, they add, could be salvaged, if access roads and management were adequate.

Questions, answers

Q.—We have a very old woodhouse that I intend to paint in a couple of months. I paint it about every three or four years. After the first year or two, the paint begins to peel on one or two of the outside walls. When I get ready to paint again, I have to go through the job of scraping off the areas where there is peeling. Is there some way I can do it this time so there won't be peeling?

A.—It seems likely that scraping the entire exterior rather than just the peeling portions may be in order this time. It may be that, while you remove the peeled paint in one area, the peeling may be continuing in other sections after the new paint has been applied. In much the same way, a leak in a corroded pipe may occur soon after a leak has been halted at some other point along the pipe.

Basically, however, the CAUSE of the peeling is moisture behind the paint. Until you find out where the moisture is coming from, you will continue to have trouble. There are a number of possible reasons. Do you sometimes have overflowing roof gutters? Are there any openings or gaps in the exterior, especially around window frames and doors? Do you have excess moisture inside the house without any normal method of exit?

Before you paint the next time, examine the outside of the house more carefully than you have ever done before, using a ladder and not relying on an inspection from the ground. Even a very narrow open seam can permit the entrance of water. Caulk or repair anything that even seems to need it.

If there is excessive moisture in your house, causing condensation on window panes, toilet tanks and other cool surfaces, the chances are that some of it is escaping through the inside walls to the outside. It gets under the paint and results in peeling. To prevent this, you need a dehumidifier or some method of allowing the moist air to get out of the house without going through the walls. Opening windows at least once a day is of some help. Ventilating fans often solve the moisture problem. So do small ventilating louvers or vents which can be installed in the outside walls, permitting the moisture to leave rather than settle under the paint.

Q.—I sometimes see an advertisement for "loose fill" insulation. What kind is it?

A.—Loose fill insulation is the kind that is poured into place, such as between rafters in an attic floor. It also is used by professionals to blow into wall openings of older houses when insulation is needed and it would be too expensive to knock down walls.
